

Landslide Returns Coalition In B.C. With 4 More Members

B.C. Vote Felt In Dominion

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

OTTAWA (BUP) — Substantial loss of ground by the C.C.F. in the British Columbia general election was encouraging old-line parties today to write off the Socialists as a major threat in the coming federal vote.

The C.C.F. reverse followed hard on the heels of the slump in the Socialist vote in Nova Scotia, where it dropped from 14 to 9 per cent of the total.

These results on the two coastlines are held by Liberal and Progressive Conservative sources to be symptomatic of a trend which will be found to exist June 27 right across the nation.

Specifically, Liberal hopes for extensive gains in the hitherto C.C.F.-dominated province of Saskatchewan were strengthened by Wednesday night's results.

P.C. hopes of capturing the C.C.F.-held seat of Centre Vancouver, where the veteran campaigner, Harry Stevens, has entered the field as a Drew candidate, also were brightened.

In the last Parliament the seat was held by Rodney Young.

OTHERS' VIEWS

Prior to Wednesday's voting, British Columbia had been regarded as a centre of C.C.F. strength. In other provinces, observers conceded Harold Winch a chance to form the second Socialist government in Canada. While the old-line parties had hoped the Coalition would come out on top in the scramble, they expected the margin to be small. The considerable ground they gained definitely exceeded their hopes.

One of the facts to which the C.C.F. slump on the west coast now is attributed was the attitude of some of the C.C.F. members from British Columbia in the last House of Commons towards the North Atlantic Pact. On the first time the treaty was before the House, a number of them absented themselves from the vote upon it.

Old-line party circles point out that this same factor applied to the C.C.F. in Saskatchewan. Several of the Socialist M.P.'s from that province followed the same course as their British Columbia colleagues when the pact first came up for consideration.

Rotary Votes Fund For World Amity

NEW YORK (AP)—Rotary International, whose 40th and biggest convention will close tonight, has voted to spend $750,000 during the next three years for better understanding among the world's peoples.

The fund, voted Wednesday, represents a $300,000 increase in the previous three-year sum set aside for the Rotary Foundation's program.

The money will be used to provide fellowships to outstanding students in many parts of the world, to send speakers to various countries to explain the workings of the United Nations, and to provide relief for Rotarian families in war-devastated areas.

Japanese Cabinet Drafting Program To Check Strikes

TOKYO (UP)—The Japanese cabinet met today to draft a program for coping with a wave of Communist-inspired strikes and to hear details of an asserted Communist plot for an "August revolution."

The cabinet planned to discuss strengthening the police force and other measures to deal with "elements obstructing Japan's recovery and democratization."

People Of B.C. Endorse Their Program Of Free Enterprise

Premier Byron Johnson, left, and his partner in Coalition, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Finance, feel very happy over the landslide which swept them back into office in Wednesday election and almost eliminated the C.C.F. Premier Johnson and Mr. Anscomb fought the campaign on the question of "Free Enterprise versus Socialism." Today they announced that British Columbians have confidence in the principles of private business and personal initiative.

60,000 U.S. Seamen Sign 2-Year Pacts With Shipowners

NEW YORK (AP)—Two-year contracts covering more than 60,000 seamen were signed today by representatives of two C.I.O. Maritime unions and Atlantic and Gulf coast shipowners.

The agreement, which must be ratified by the union rank and file, was reached early today after 22 hours of negotiations. The previous contract expired last midnight.

The pacts cover 60,000 members of the National Maritime Union and some 1,400 members of the American Radio Association. They provide for a $7.50 monthly increase to be added to the present base pay as a clothing allowance.

The agreements state the union hiring hall system of choosing employees will remain in effect pending a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court as to its legality. In the event of a decision outlawing hiring hall practices, the agreements would be reopened for negotiation.

U.S. State Officials Find Reds On Defensive In Europe

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials today found evidence that even the Communists feel they now are on the defensive in the cold war in Europe.

The clue to what may be a radical turn in Communist leadership estimates of the east-west conflict came in a bulletin of the Communist International Information Bureau.

As reported from Bucharest where it is published, the bulletin said it now is the "cardinal task" of Communists to block the spread of Americanism. Officials here said that this coupled with the charge that the United States is trying to "poison" working classes with American ideas, indicates the Soviet-led Cominform is deeply concerned over the west's success to date in fighting Communism.

They speculated that this concern now dominates top Communist thinking in contrast with an earlier Communist preoccupation with expansion of their own power and influence. If this analysis is correct, it may mark a switch in Communist tactics in Europe—from primary emphasis on expansion westward to a new stress on holding the line in eastern Europe.

This view is in accord with official U.S. estimates of the cold war struggle. According to these, the next phase of the battle between western influences and Soviet Communism—apart from Germany—may well be in eastern Europe, with Yugoslavia providing the initial testing ground.

Another Moscow First

LONDON (UP)—Russia claimed another "first" today. Radio Moscow said a Soviet scientist in 1752 invented the first device to test the hardness of rocks.

Dutch Communists Heavily Defeated

AMSTERDAM (UP)—Unofficial returns from 23 cities indicated today the Communist Party had suffered heavy reverses in Holland's first round municipal elections Wednesday. The returns from these cities—including Arnhem and the Communist strongholds of Groningen and Enschede—showed that Communist strength on city councils had been reduced by almost 50 per cent.

Sets Talking Record

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters)—William Bustamante, Jamaican labor leader and chief cabinet minister, set up a marathon talking record lasting 4½ days when he completed Wednesday his speech on the budget before the House of Representatives.

Economists In Britain Said To Fear New Crisis

LONDON (CP)—The New York Times said today some of the best economic brains in Britain believe the country is heading for another economic crisis.

In a dispatch from Michael L. Hoffman, the newspaper said "deep pessimism in the current outlook" was reflected in Sir Stafford Cripps' warnings to the Labor Party conference that the "economic barometers are certainly not rising."

The Times quoted sources close to the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

"When Sir Stafford spoke he undoubtedly knew, though the public does not yet, that the figures showed changes in Britain's dollar and gold position during the second quarter of 1949 indicate a serious deterioration on this vital economic front," the Times said.

"To an increasing extent," the paper added, "British economists believe the crisis will lead to an ultimate test of strength between the government and the trade unions, a foretaste of which is already given by the unrest among the railway and dock workers."

Fatality Ruins Long Safe-Driving Record

C.C.F. Opposition Cut From 11 To 6 Members In Shattering Defeat

Pat Bay Crashboat Aiding In Search For Missing Plane

The R.C.A.F. crashboat Huron, commanded by WO2 V. Twigg, left Patricia Bay at daybreak this morning to aid in the search for the pilot of a light United States civilian aircraft, missing on a flight from Seattle to Alert Bay.

Pilot of the cream and red Piper Cub, last sighted over Comox, about 145 miles north of Victoria, is Stuart Adams, Seattle.

Sqdn. Ldr. R. M. Beer, officer commanding No. 122 Marine Squadron at Patricia Bay, to which the Huron is attached, said at 8.30 this morning that he had not yet heard from the speedy crashboat, which carries a crew of about eight men.

The Huron, it is understood, will work in co-operation with marine and air units from the R.C.A.F. station at Sea Island in the intensive search.

Adams gave his position to the Comox airport control tower when over that area. When the tiny plane was seven hours overdue at Port Hardy, 20 miles west of Alert Bay, where it was first understood to be heading, an R.C.A.F. search and rescue Lancaster took to the air from Sea Island.

Provincial police and Trans-Canada Air Lines have been alerted.

Nfld. Magistrate Reserves Decision In Premier's Case

ST. JOHN'S (CP)—Magistrate Hugh O'Neill today reserved until an unspecified date his decision in the case of Premier Smallwood, charged with undue influence and intimidation of voters.

Four summonses were issued against the new province's Liberal Premier Tuesday at the request of W. J. Browne, a former district court judge who resigned to become Progressive Conservative candidate for the June 27 federal election in St. John's West.

Magistrate O'Neill adjourned the hearing after listening to argument by counsel for the Premier and Mr. Browne.

The courtroom and streets outside were jammed with persons from St. John's and outlying districts who cheered both principals when they arrived and as they left.

Standing in the doorway of the justice building near the courthouse, Premier Smallwood held both arms outstretched in acknowledgment of the cheering.

There was no untoward demonstration by the crowds.

Waitkus Slightly Improved Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Waitkus, popular Philadelphia Phillies first baseman, who was shot by a 19-year-old girl admirer, was reported "a bit improved" today.

The assailant, who said she was secretly in love with him, was summoned into felony court on a charge of assault with intent to murder the star player, who was hit near the heart by a .22-calibre rifle bullet.

Hospital authorities, who Wednesday termed his condition "fair to poor," said today he was better.

The Coalition administration of Premier Byron Johnson and Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb was returned with a landslide majority in a record vote by the people of British Columbia Wednesday.

The C.C.F., in its fourth major bid for power in British Columbia, met a shattering defeat, its membership in the 48-member Legislature being cut from 11 to dissolution to six.

The Coalition will have 40 seats in the new Legislature. The remaining two members will be an Independent, James Mowat of Alberni, and Tom Uphill, veteran Labor member from Fernie.

To Coalition leaders the election result meant an endorsement of free enterprise and a defeat of socialism.

The lone uncertain seat this morning was Cranbrook, where Leo Nimsick, C.C.F., nursed a slim 54-vote lead over Clifford Swan, Mayor of Kimberley, seeking the seat, formerly held by Dr. F. W. Green, Coalition. Two polls of 19 remain unheard from. The election of Mr. Nimsick, however, has been conceded.

A Canadian Press survey presented this picture, compared with the 1945 general election result:

	1945	1949
Coalition	40	37
C.C.F.	6	10
Liberal	1	1
Independent	1	1

The Coalition force, which broke down into 18 Liberals, 15 Progressive Conservatives and three straight Coalitionists, now stands unofficially at 23 Liberals, 14 Conservatives and three straight Coalitionists. While the three Coalitionists did not attend the caucus of either party during the last Legislature's sessions, it is believed that they would side with the Liberals rather than the Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. Mowat is also a Liberal, although he was elected as an Independent.

With the provincial election decks cleared some federal candidates who had been withholding their campaigns will swing into action today.

The incomplete returns indicate that the Coalition received about 62 per cent of the total vote, compared with 56 in 1945. The C.C.F. candidates polled 35 per cent compared with 38 in 1945.

Coalition Rode To Victory With 63% Of Popular Vote

Incomplete tabulations show that Coalition candidates received 63 per cent of the vote in Wednesday's British Columbia election. The coalition of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives polled 56 per cent in 1945.

C.C.F. candidates polled 33 per cent of the vote compared with 38 per cent four years ago. Others received 4 per cent compared with 6.

With 62 per cent of the polls reported, the Canadian Press tabulation follows (percentages bracketed):

	1949	1945	1941
Coalition	275,089 (63)	261,147 (56)	151,440 (33)
C.C.F.	146,192 (33)	175,960 (38)	149,525 (33)

U.S. Firms To Explore Vast Saskatchewan Area For Oil

REGINA (BUP)—Negotiations between the Saskatchewan government and six U.S. oil companies covering exploration and development of some 9,000,000 acres of potential oil land have been completed. Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank made the announcement.

He described the oil deal as "one of the most extensive in Canada."

The companies, representing producing, refining and marketing companies in the United States, are: Tidewater Associated Oil, Atlantic Refining, Honolulu Oil, Seaboard Oil, Barnsdall Oil and Columbia Carbon.

Brockelbank said the American companies will take over 36 permits covering approximately 9,000,000 acres of land in Saskatchewan. Land covered in the permits extends west from Saskatoon to Biggar and south from Swift Current to Lake Johnston. A second block of land covered by the permits is situated in the Touchwood Hills area, and a third block extends from the Qu'Appelle Valley south to Carleton place and east to the Manitoba border.

Brockelbank said senior executives of these companies were meeting with government officials this week to discuss the program covering the U.S. companies' operations.

Soviet Reply Submitted To Big 4 Meeting

PARIS (CP)—The Four-Power Council of Foreign Ministers met for 90 minutes today in a closed session. Then Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia left the conference room, apparently to permit his western colleagues to chew over what he had told them.

It was presumed Vishinsky laid before the western ministers the Russian reply to their latest counter-proposals for a temporary East-West truce in Europe. The counter-proposals were put forward Wednesday.

The Paris meeting evidently is in its last phase. Britain, the United States and France are reported anxious to complete the talks tonight. If this is done, a communiqué on what the talks have accomplished will be issued. Vishinsky returned to the conference room in about an hour. In the interim the Western Ministers had been to their private rooms, apparently for consultation with their respective delegations. The council then resumed its closed deliberations. Conference officials said that even if the ministers had to remain in session until late tonight, there probably would be a full session later at which a joint communiqué might be drafted. The ministers appeared determined to salvage from the month-long parley two broad agreements on the future of Berlin and Austria. Before the ministers today was the question of how they can help settle the complicated Berlin rail strike. They talked over the strike situation among themselves Wednesday with no apparent results.

Would End Traffic Restrictions

Some concrete arrangement for the future of Berlin are believed in sight, however. Those arrangements would look something like this:

Both sides would promise not to reimpose any kind of road or traffic restrictions into or out of Berlin.

Both would agree to promote trade and commerce between the respective zones.

Top Russian and western representatives in Germany would be ordered to consult each other any time trouble arose.

These four high commissioners also would supervise the formation and activities of an all-German economic committee dedicated to maintain and develop trade and financial links between the country's two segments.

Both the British and French appear optimistic that Russia and the west will succeed in removing most of their main differences regarding the Austrian independence treaty before the conference ends.

Although nothing has been definitely settled, the four ministers are expected to announce they will reconvene in New York next fall.

Berlin Auto Blockade Clamped On, Taken Off

BERLIN (UP)—The Russians halted all Allied auto traffic out of Berlin for a tense four hours tonight, then lifted the blockade with an explanation that it had all been a mistake.

When the ban was suddenly put on, Allied officials feared the Soviets might be reimposing its complete blockade on the former German capital.

James Riddelberger, political adviser to the U.S. military governor, immediately informed Secretary of State Dean Acheson in Paris of the development. It in effect closed the Berlin-West Germany super-highway to out-bound traffic.

Col. T. Duke, U.S. Berlin military post commander, said the Russians for a time turned back Allied vehicles at the Soviet check point just outside Berlin because they did not have Russian-signed passes.

All signs indicate the Cominform is getting ready to try to crush Tito. This may take the form of intensifying the economic blockade maintained against Yugoslavia by the Russian-led eastern European Communist countries.

The Johnsons And Their Victory Smile

Premier Byron Johnson is shown with Mrs. Johnson and their son, Byron, in their apartment in New Westminster Wednesday night after receiving news of the Coalition's overwhelming victory and the Premier's smashing conquest in the Royal City. Premier Johnson first represented his native city, Victoria, in the Legislature. On moving to New Westminster he became a factor in political circles and returned to the Legislature. Drew On B.C. Vote

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said today that the result of the British Columbia provincial election "is very convincing and satisfactory evidence of the loss of strength of the C.C.F. Party throughout the whole of Canada."

Official Closing Of Schools June 30

There is a ring around June 30 on the calendars of Greater Victoria schoolchildren. That is the official closing date, according to J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, today. Owing to differences in examination schedules some schools may close a day or two earlier than the June 30 deadline.

Missing Aircraft Now Reported Safe

VANCOUVER (CP)—A United States aircraft, missing off the British Columbia coast since Wednesday, was reported safe today.

The plane, piloted by Stuart Adams of Seattle, was stated to have resumed its flight up the B.C. coast after being forced down in Blinksop Bay, north of Hardwicke Island, about 150 miles northwest of Vancouver.

R.C.A.F. officials reported a boat, identified as the Limited, saw the missing plane overhead at 6.50 a.m. Radio contact was established between the boat and the plane.

Adams was on a flight from Seattle to Port Hardy, B.C., when he disappeared Wednesday.

Tax Experts Studying Ruling On Union Dues

OTTAWA (CP)—Taxation experts in the National Revenue Department are studying an Exchequer Court judgment by Mr. Justice E. R. Angers which ruled that Joseph A. Cooper, a Winnipeg movie projectionist, could deduct $35 union dues from his taxable income for 1945.

While revenue officials declined immediate comment on the judgment, it was believed the implications may be widespread, possibly involving rebates to union and other workers who accepted the revenue department's ruling that such union dues were not deductible.

Mr. Justice Angers' decision, given Tuesday, upheld the projectionists claim that it was necessary for him to pay his union dues before he could hold a job as a projectionist. The revenue department had held that the dues were not deductible under a clause of the Income Tax Act which ruled out deductions for "disbursements or expenses not wholly, exclusively and necessarily laid out or expended for the purpose of earning the income."

A new income tax act, passed in 1948, went into effect last Jan. 1 eliminates the difficulty by making it definite that such deductions are not allowable.

Thousands Of Workers Interested

However, the new judgment, made June 8, may affect all such dues paid prior to last Jan. 1. A spokesman for the revenue department today said the problem was highly complex and would be the subject of long and careful scrutiny before any overall decisions are made. He said Mr. Justice Angers' ruling was a specific one, applying only to the question of whether Cooper could deduct $35 from his taxable income for the year 1945.

It will be up to the department to decide how the judgment affects thousands of other trade unionists throughout the country. The decision may affect classes of workers other than union members. One example is a decision by Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson, president of the Exchequer

Court, in 1946. He ruled that fees paid by lawyers to a law society were deductible from taxable income under the same clause of the Income Tax Act.

Dutch Communists Heavily Defeated

AMSTERDAM (UP)—Official returns from 23 cities indicated today the Communist Party had suffered heavy reverses in Holland's first round municipal elections Wednesday. The returns from these cities—including Arnhem and the Communist strongholds of Groningen and Enschede—showed that Communist strength on city councils had been reduced by almost 50 per cent.

Japanese Cabinet Drafting Program To Check Strikes

TOKYO (UP)—The Japanese cabinet met today to draft a program for coping with a wave of Communist-inspired strikes and to hear details of an asserted Communist plot for an "August revolution."

The cabinet planned to discuss strengthening the police force and other measures to deal with "elements obstructing Japan's recovery and democratization."

The Communist Party, meanwhile, denied it was plotting a nationwide campaign of strikes and violence during August and September, hoping to wreck the conservative government of Premier Shigeru Yoshida. The charges were made by Yoshida's party, the Democratic Liberals, who command a majority in the Diet.

Canadian Seamen Before Court In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Twenty-eight striking Canadian seamen were ordered to appear in federal court today to show cause why they should not be removed from the freighter East-wave.

The United States government seized the vessel Wednesday after the crew had struck Monday. The captain, on the advice of consular officials, had discharged the crew and ordered the strikers ashore.

The crew at first refused to leave the ship, but after deputy marshals had come aboard, the men filed down the gangplank and stretched their gear out on a pier, where they announced they would sleep for the night.

However, guards ordered them off the pier. Later, the C.I.O. Marine Engineers' Association announced it had made arrangements to take care of the striking crew.

Crewmen said they struck the vessel because the ship was "dirty" and the food "rotten." However, behind the grievance lay a strike of the Canadian Seamen's Union which has tied up the country's ships in many world ports. Main issue in the dispute is a disagreement over recognition by the Canadian ministry of the A.F.L. Seafarers' International Union.

$89,000 Permit Out For Lands Building

Permit for erection of a building, to house offices and laboratory for the Department of Lands at a cost of $89,000 was issued to the Provincial government today, by the city building inspector.

The construction was started some time ago with the foundation now complete. It is situated in the 500 block Superior Street at the back of a lot.

Plans call for completion about the end of September. H. W. Whitaker is the architect and George H. Wheaton, contractor.

$29,000,000 Defence

SEATTLE (AP)—The U.S. army has asked appropriation of $29,000,000 for defence facilities in the area of the Hanford, Wash., atomic energy works, the Seattle Times said today.

4 Coalition Seats Added In Election

Congratulations today poured in to Premier Byron Johnson and other members of his government following a landslide victory at the polls Wednesday.

The Coalition added four seats to its 36 in the Legislature and the C.C.F. opposition went down to a crushing defeat, its representation slashed from 11 to six. One Independent, a former Coalitionist, was elected.

In New Westminster resting following a strenuous campaign, Mr. Johnson, accompanied by his wife and son, Byron, plan to return to Victoria during the week-end.

In a long-distance telephone interview this afternoon Mr. Johnson expressed further elation at the result of the election, claiming it had almost proven up to his wildest hopes.

He sidestepped questions on the future of the Coalition, a possible successor to Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam and other changes in the cabinet which some observers feel are in the offing. At the last session of the legislature provision was made to increase the present 10-member cabinet to 12.

For additional election stories and pictures, see pages 2, 5, 6 and 7.

Almost Total Victory On Island

The victory on Vancouver Island was complete, except for a partial defeat in Alberni.

The six Greater Victoria candidates were returned with huge majorities. They are Education Minister W. T. Straith, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and D. J. Proudfoot, all of whom secured almost three votes to their C.C.F. opponents: Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, and Arthur J. R. Ash, both of whom improved their majorities in Oak Bay and Saanich, respectively, and Cmdr. Beard, who polled more votes than his four opponents combined.

Cowichan-Newcastle, held by the C.C.F. for 12 years, fell to Andrew Whisker, Coalition, while Nanaimo-The Islands returned Provincial Secretary and Health and Welfare Minister George S. Pearson.

In Comox the final result, yet unavailable, is expected to show an almost 2,000-vote majority for H. J. Welch, who won the seat in 1945 with a mere 70-vote majority.

The Coalition candidate in Alberni, T. W. Christie, met defeat but the government is not unhappy about the result. James Mowat, Coalition member of the 21st Legislature who had failed to win the Coalition nomination, won handsily as an Independent.

Beside Cowichan—Newcastle, the Coalition won Mackenzie, Prince Rupert, Peace River, Fort George, Omineca and Rossland-Trail from the C.C.F. The C.C.F. claimed but two Coalition seats, Cranbrook and Grand Forks-Greenwood.

Nine Cabinet Ministers Returned

Mr. Johnson's entire cabinet was returned, except Agriculture Minister Putnam, who is retiring from political life.

Neither the Social Credit, with 16 candidates, nor its offshoot, the Union of Electors with 12, elected a candidate. The two Labor Progressive Party candidates also went down to defeat.

From still-incomplete returns tabulated by the Canadian Press it developed that the Coalition force received approximately 62 per cent of the total vote, compared with 56 in 1945. C.C.F. candidates polled 35 per cent compared with 38 per cent in 1945.

Mr. Johnson, repeating his 1945 performance, was the first elected in the province. His election was confirmed within half an hour of the closing of the polls.

The second candidate elected was his co-leader in the Coalition administration, Mr. Anscomb, who probably chalked up the biggest majority of any candidate in the province.

Mr. Johnson's post-election comment bore out his five-week campaign in which he had stressed a claim that a socialist government would hinder a province facing tremendous expansion. He termed the victory "a great one for free enterprise," and was happily seconded by Mr. Anscomb.

C.C.F. leader Harold E. Winch, who was re-elected in Vancouver East, but whose whip, Herbert Gargrave met defeat in Mackenzie, said the result of the election clearly indicated that the electorate was driven to support the government in hope of maintaining job security and full employment.

Coalition Rode To Success With 63% Of Popular Vote

Candidates of the Coalition government polled 62 per cent of a record vote in British Columbia's provincial election Wednesday. In the 1945 election, the fusion of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives polled 56 per cent.

Tabulation of the Canadian Press of more than 88 per cent of the votes showed that C.C.F. candidates received 35 per cent of the votes compared to 38 in 1945.

In the stalemate 1941 election which led to the Coalition, Liberals polled 33 per cent of the vote and Conservatives 31. With 2,144 of 2,421 polls reported, the Canadian Press tabulation follows (members elected in brackets):

	1949	1945	1941
Coalition	338,644 (40)	261,147 (37)	151,440 (14)
C.C.F.	224,135 (6)	175,960 (10)	149,552 (20)

"The Liberal Government, represented in Victoria by the Hon. R. W. Mayhew, Minister of Fisheries, will receive my endorsement on June 27 for very many reasons," says Mrs. Peggy Gibbs of 773 Island Road, Oak Bay, as she cuts roses in her garden.

"Three of them are outstandingly important to all the women-folk in Canada. First, the Family Allowances program initiated by the Liberal Government, is a boon to parents and a support to our economy. Secondly, the Liberal Government carried us through the emergencies of war in a most competent manner and has given evidence of equal competence since the war ended. Lastly, and most important as I see it, the Liberals offer no extremist remedies for governmental difficulties, but promise us a businesslike management of our affairs, plus co-operation with our neighbors and sister nations throughout the world."

Mrs. Gibbs is well qualified to speak on business matters, for in addition to being an extremely competent housewife and charming hostess, she helps her husband, Mr. P. A. Gibbs, well-known chartered accountant of this city, in his business.

Much of their spare time is spent in the garden, where Mr. Gibbs specializes in roses. ***

MAPLE BAY MUSINGS

I WENT up the island on Monday to fill a couple of speaking engagements at Ladysmith and Duncan, and thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity it gave me to see the countryside of this favored part of Canada.

Unfortunately the fleeting glory of the dogwoods are over, and the gold of the broom is past its best, but much remains to enchant the eye.

At one spot clearings' spaces were covered with a dense carpet of white marguerites, interspersed with the gold of the broom, looking from our vantage point on the hill like a tapestry woven in gold and silver. At another the wild lupins scented the air with their peculiar, salty fragrance.

LUSH GREENERY

SELDOM have I seen the island looking greener. The unusual snows of the winter and the lateness and wetness of the spring are paying dividends in lush growth and greenness on every hand.

Speaking of growth, never before had I realized the steady growth of our island population. Almost overnight, houses seem to be springing up all along the highway, with gay roofs and gay gardens to add color to the passing scene. Over the Malahat the soft haze of a summer day softened the contours of the distant peaks and islands and muted the reflections in the still waters far below. And I noted with renewed satisfaction that nature has laid her healing hand on the man-made desecration caused a few years ago by the cutting down of the trees, near the summit, covering the scars with fresh, vigorous young greenery, over which one can enjoy the glorious vista down the Arm.

WILD SPIREA

AS WE DROVE down to Maple Bay, where we had lunch, I revealed again in the magnificent old maples which give this lovely area its name—and idly mused on the changes which have taken place since they were mere seedlings in the primeval forest that covered this island.

But such musings soon gave way to an appreciation of the wild spirea whose blossoms will soon deck the lanes and roadsides with their delicate, lacy fringes. It seemed to me that the spirea bushes were more heavily laden than usual, but it may have been my fancy.

DELIGHTFUL DALLIANCE

AND I LOVE the way the road winds, not only inviting one to meander along in leisurely fashion, but filling you with a sense of pleasurable speculation as to what new vista awaits you around the bend.

Even the river-meanders and winds, eddying around little boulders and in and out of the roots that cling to its banks, as if loth to leave such delightful temptations to dalliance.

As to Maple Bay itself, the view from the inn is one of the most entrancing on the island, in my humble opinion. The shores of the bay are girt with hills so thick with trees and greenery that residences and summer homes are hidden from view, with here and there the corner of a red rooftop making a little splash of color, almost like a scarlet blossom.

'PAINTED SHIP'

THE ROCKY, fir-clad heights of Salt Spring Island make a distant backdrop against which the sails of a cruising yacht looked as "idle as a painted ship upon a painted ocean." In the nearer distance, a trim power cruiser cleaved through the water, leaving in its wake a streak as if made by a soap-sudged finger.

And in the garden just below the window, a couple of wild canaries darted in and out of the bushes, the sun on their wings giving them the appearance of jewels as they flashed back and forth.

Once again I offered up a little prayer of thankfulness for the gift of sight—to see such loveliness; for the gift of hearing—to enjoy the music of the birds and the chuckling of the little waves; for the gift of smell—to relish the summer fragrance of wild roses; in other words, for the privilege of living in this island paradise.

Victoria Coalition Headquarters Scene Of Jubilation As First Returns Come In

The Victoria Coalition headquarters was a scene of great jubilation Wednesday night as candidates and party workers watched the returns of the provincial general election come in.

Two hours after the polls closed the result of the Victoria polling was asured and the three Coalition candidates, Education Minister W. T. Straith, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and D. J. Proudfoot, appeared to receive the congratulations of their friends and to offer thanks to those who had worked for the outstanding victory.

As the result of the first polls began to trickle in over the telephone lines, Jim Cooper shouted them out, and Earl Pollock posted them on several blackboards. The first results were met by cheers and applause.

With the trend indicated from the first polls, the assembly was a scene of joy and confidence. Within an hour the heads of the Coalition candidates were so well established that the result of the election was taken for granted.

Mrs. Hodges had been watching the returns since 8:30. Mr. Proudfoot arrived shortly after 9. Mr. Straith followed a few minutes later.

TREND FOR FEDERAL POLL

In the background watching with pleasure the result of the polling was Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, who at the federal general election June 27, himself will face the electorate. Several party workers expressed confidence that the result of the provincial polling indicated a trend which would be continued in the federal election.

Shortly after 10 the three new members of the legislature mounted the stage of the auditorium, at which several weeks before they had been nominated, as the Coalition candidates.

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, provincial Progressive Conservative leader who had chalked up a rousing victory in Oak Bay, arrived to be greeted with cheers and clapping, as he joined the successful Victoria candidates on the stage.

Arthur J. R. Ash, whose reelection in Saanich was assured, also was on hand with his wife. He too took the stage to receive the cheers and well wishes of the party.

"The results we have heard up to date make it clear," said Mr. Straith, "that it has been a thorough landslide."

"This is a time for cheering. It looks as though we have pretty well eliminated the C.C.F. from the Pouse."

He said the issue of the election was whether the people wished a continuance of the free enterprise government under Premier Johnson and Mr. Anscomb or socialism.

"The people have given a very decisive no to socialism."

He thanked all those who had assisted in the Coalition cause in Victoria, mentioning particularly, H. W. Davey, K.C., the campaign manager, and Ed. Whyte, assistant secretary of the Victoria Liberal Association.

Mr. Proudfoot thanked those who had supported him and said that while he would perhaps be the smallest man in the new Legislature, it would take a lot to kick him out.

Mrs. Hodges, hoping that she deserved the confidence placed in her, said:

"I am very happy to be here, but I am not happy about the outcome, but showed no signs of emotion over his victory in Esquimalt for the Coalition. When a Times photographer took his picture, several supporters jostled him."

They urged him to smile for the cameraman, claiming all his campaign posters and advertisements showed him "as a sad individual."

"What's the matter with the way I look," Cmdr. Beard cracked back, "I'm happy."

Seated by a small radio to one

"The thing that pleases me most is the overall picture for the province. I believe we have really given the C.C.F. a kick where it hurts them most."

Mr. Anscomb, describing the victory as amazing, jokingly said: "I think it ought to be 4 1/2 per cent now." He was referring to the 3 per cent sales tax which has frequently been branded the Anscomb tax.

He expressed pleasure that Herbert Gargrave, one of his chief critics in the 21st legislature, was having a tough time in Mackenzie home of the province's largest pulp and paper plants.

He paid particular tribute to Premier Johnson, describing his pre-election tour of the province as remarkable.

The result of the election showed the heart and core of British Columbia was good and it also showed, he said, referring to Kremlin-directed Communists, "that the people won't be stampeded by that sort of thing."

Later he described the result as a definite expression of opinion against Socialism and Communism.

He said the result was a complete endorsement of the government's great humanitarian and development programs.

Mr. Straith, later in a broadcast, expressed pleasure that the campaign had been clean and void of personalities.

"We have our opponents to thank for that," he said. "We can proceed with no bitterness toward anyone."

C.C.F. Loss In B.C. Watched For Effect On Federal Vote

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

OTTAWA (BUP)—Substantial loss of ground by the C.C.F. in the British Columbia general election was encouraging old-line parties today to write off the Socialists as a major threat in the coming federal vote.

The C.C.F. reverse followed hard on the heels of the slump in the Socialist vote in Nova Scotia, where it dropped from 14 to 9 per cent of the total.

These results on the two coastlines are held by Liberal and Progressive Conservative sources to be symptomatic of a trend which will be found to exist June 27 right across the nation.

IN SASKATCHEWAN

Specifically, Liberal hopes for extensive gains in the hitherto C.C.F.-dominated province of Saskatchewan were strengthened by Wednesday night's results.

P.C. hopes of capturing the C.C.F.-held seat of Centre Vancouver, where the veteran campaigner, Harry Stevens, has entered the field as a Drew candidate, also were brightened.

In the last Parliament the seat was held by Rodney Young. Prior to Wednesday's voting,

British Columbia had been regarded as a centre of C.C.F. strength. In other provinces, observers conceded Harold Winch a chance to form the second Socialist government in Canada. While the old-line parties had hoped the Coalition would come out on top in the scramble, they expected the margin to be small. The considerable ground they gained definitely exceeded their hopes.

ATLANTIC PACT

One of the facts to which the C.C.F. slump on the west coast now is attributed was the attitude of some of the C.C.F. members from British Columbia in the last House of Commons towards the North Atlantic Pact. On the first time the treaty was before the House, a number of them absented themselves from the vote upon it.

Old-line party circles point out that this same factor applied to the C.C.F. in Saskatchewan. Several of the Socialist M.P.'s from that province followed the same course as their British Columbia colleagues when the pact first came up for consideration.

Economists In Britain Said To Fear New Crisis

LONDON (CP)—The New York Times said today some of the best economic brains in Britain believe the country is heading for another economic crisis.

In a dispatch from Michael L. Hoffman, the newspaper said "deep pessimism in the current outlook" was reflected in Sir Stafford Cripps' warnings to the Labor Party conference that the "economic barometers are certainly not rising."

The Times quoted sources close to the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

"When Sir Stafford spoke he undoubtedly knew, though the public does not yet, that the figures showed changes in Britain's dollar and gold position during the second quarter of 1949 indicate a serious deterioration on this vital economic front," the Times said.

"To an increasing extent," the paper added, "British economists believe the crisis will lead to an ultimate test of strength between the government and the trade unions, a foretaste of which is already given by the unrest among the railway and dock workers."

The weight of blood is one-eighth that of the whole body.

Joyful Workers Cheer Coalition Winners In Victoria And Saanich

Coalition's overwhelming victory in Victoria and Saanich was greeted by rousing cheers from party supporters at Liberal headquarters Wednesday night. Hundreds of party supporters swarmed around the successful candidates to congratulate them. Left to right are: Arthur Ash, Saanich; D. J. Proudfoot, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and Education Minister W. T. Straith, Victoria's Coalition team.

Nfld. Magistrate Reserves Decision In Premier's Case

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Magistrate Hugh O'Neill today reserved until an unspecified date his decision in the case of Premier Smallwood, charged with undue influence and intimidation of voters.

Four summonses were issued against the new province's Liberal Premier Tuesday at the request of W. J. Browne, a former district court judge who resigned to become Progressive Conservative candidate for the June 27 federal election in St. John's West.

Magistrate O'Neill adjourned the hearing after listening to argument by counsel for the Premier and Mr. Browne.

The courtroom and streets outside were jammed with persons from St. John's and outlying districts who cheered both principals when they arrived and as they left.

Argument of counsel dealt largely with the extent to which Canadian laws apply now in the new province.

Short But Intensive Federal Campaign To Get Under Way In Victoria Tonight

A short but intensive federal election campaign got under way today in Victoria now that the provincial election is over.

Both Fisheries Minister E. W. Mayhew, who is seeking re-election on the Liberal ticket, and Gordon A. Cameron, the Progressive Conservative candidate, have arranged meetings for tonight in Victoria.

W. E. Poupore, Liberal candidate in Nanaimo who is trying to unseat Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, has arranged a meeting for tonight at Crofton. Gen. Pearkes is flying back to Victoria today from Ontario. He has arranged meetings for Friday in Sooke and Shirley.

Mr. Mayhew addressed veterans at the Veterans' Hospital under way today in Victoria now that the provincial election is over. He will speak again tonight in Oak Bay High School with Tom Reid, Liberal member of the 20th Parliament for New Westminster.

Mr. Cameron will hold a meeting tonight in North Ward School. Supporting him will be Rupert Ramsay, former president of the Saskatchewan Progressive Conservative Association, and E. W. Jones.

The Liberals have arranged two meetings for Friday night. A youth rally, which will wind meeting will open at 8 in St. Mary's Church Hall in Oak Bay. The key speaker will be Donald Fleming, member of the 20th Parliament for Eglinton, Toronto. Mrs. R. D. Harvey will also address this meeting.

No Progressive Conservative meeting is scheduled for Saturday here, but Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, trade and commerce minister, will give an address in the Dominion Theatre that night in support of Mr. Mayhew.

The following week Mr. Mayhew will have meetings every night. Among those who will support him on the platform will be Foster Isherwood, Liberal candidate in Vancouver Quadra, and Ralph Campney, Liberal candidate in Vancouver Centre.

Mr. Cameron will have to support him next week, among others, Howard Green, veteran member of Parliament for Vancouver South.

Hon. Earl Rowe, Minister Without Portfolio in the Bennett cabinet and member of Parliament for Dufferin-Simcoe, will come to the island Saturday to speak in support of Gen. Pearkes at Duncan. Next week Hon. H. H. Stevens, a candidate in Vancouver Centre, will visit Nanaimo to speak in support of Gen. Pearkes.

U.S. Firms To Explore Vast Saskatchewan Area For Oil

REGINA (BUP)—Negotiations between the Saskatchewan government and six U.S. oil companies covering exploration and development of some 9,000,000 acres of potential oil land have been completed. Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank made the announcement.

He described the oil deal as "one of the most extensive in Canada."

The companies, representing producing, refining and marketing companies in the United States, are: Tidewater Associated Oil, Atlantic Refining, Honolulu Oil, Seaboard Oil, Barnsdall Oil and Columbia Carbon.

Brockelbank said the American companies will take over 36 permits covering approximately 9,000,000 acres of land in Saskatchewan. Land covered in the permits extends west from Saskatoon to Biggar and south from Swift Current to Lake Johnston.

A second block of land covered by the permits is situated in the Touchwood Hills area, and a third block extends from the Qu'Appelle Valley south to Carleton Place and east to the Manitoba border.

Brockelbank said senior executives of these companies were meeting with government officials this week to discuss the program covering the U.S. companies' operations.

60,000 U.S. Seamen Sign 2-Year Pacts With Shipowners

NEW YORK (AP)—Two-year contracts covering more than 60,000 seamen were signed today by representatives of two C.I.O. Maritime unions and Atlantic and Gulf coast shipowners.

The agreement, which must be ratified by the union rank and file, was reached early today after 22 hours of negotiations. The previous contract expired last midnight.

The pacts cover 60,000 members of the National Maritime Union and some 1,400 members of the American Radio Association. They provide for a $7.50 monthly increase to be added to the present base pay as a clothing allowance.

The agreements state the union hiring hall system of choosing employees will remain in effect pending a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court as to its legality. In the event of a decision outlawing hiring-hall practices, the agreements would be reopened for negotiation.

Operation Fails

EDMONTON (CP)—Two-year-old Joan McLaughlin of Fort St. John, B.C., died in the University Hospital here. She suffered serious head injuries Monday when she tumbled from the moving automobile of her father on the Alaska highway near Peace River, Alta. In an attempt to save the child's life, doctors performed a delicate brain operation.

Rotary Votes Fund For World Amity

NEW YORK (AP)—Rotary International, whose 40th and biggest convention will close tonight, has voted to spend $750,000 during the next three years for better understanding among the world's peoples.

The fund, voted Wednesday, represents a $300,000 increase in the previous three-year sum set aside for the Rotary Foundation's program.

The money will be used to provide fellowships to outstanding students in many parts of the world, to send speakers to the workings of the United Nations, and to provide relief for Rotarian families in war-devastated areas.

Another Moscow First

LONDON (UP)—Russia claimed another "first" today. Radio Moscow said a Soviet scientist in 1752 invented the first device to test the hardness of rocks.

FREE ENTERPRISE TRIUMPHS

BRITISH COLUMBIANS SPOKE
through the ballot box yesterday in no uncertain terms. They made it clear they wanted the Coalition government returned and were so sure of what they wanted that they almost eliminated the C.C.F. opposition. Reduced from 16 to 10 in the provincial general election of 1945—when six of the Socialists' best debaters were left by the wayside—the party headed by Mr. Harold Winch will number only six in the next House.

It is especially worthy of note that Mr. Herbert Gargrave, former C.C.F. member for Mackenzie and the most vocal advocate of state acquisition of industry, will now have to find other outlets for his anti-capitalistic sallies. He will be missed from the legislative halls here, of course, because, unlike some of his lugubrious and doctrinaire colleagues, he could always summon up a sense of humor to soften his threat of what his party would do "when we assume power." As he reflected on the campaign and the result this morning, however, even he probably realized that the people of this highly-promising part of the Dominion have not been, and do not intend to be, fooled by the "economic planners." In other words, the verdict rendered so emphatically in every part of the province will let the people of the rest of the country know that this last great frontier—which is an empire in itself—has no room in its vast domain for neo-Communists or their kind of philosophy.

Particularly interesting were some of the decisions by the voters on Vancouver Island—from which no C.C.F. member will go to the next Legislature. There was very little doubt about Victoria city, Oak Bay or Saanich; but the battle in Esquimalt became complicated early in the campaign by the invasion of vote-splitting—admittedly with no love for the Socialists, but with their own particular peevishness they took no pains to shroud. The distribution of support at the polls in that important constituency furnishes its own commentary. And those well-meaning citizens who tried to preach the gospel according to the late William Abernethy—the "funny money" advocates—were, as was expected, almost left at the starting post. All in all, therefore, the victory scored by the Johnson-Anscomb team was remarkable in its emphasis on policy and can be written down as a great triumph for free enterprise over the threat of leftist experimentation.

NOW FOR THE JOB AHEAD

IT IS A FOREGONE CONCLUSION, OF course, that Mr. Johnson and his ministerial colleagues will be receiving various kinds of advice as to what the newly-endorsed Coalition government ought to do. This is as it should be. British Columbia is an important part of free and liberty-loving Canada. The men and women elected yesterday are the servants of the people. It is their duty to listen to those whose interests they have pledged themselves to serve. Some of the "instructions" that will be given may be a product of an impractical fringe of society and not worth more than cursory study. But even a fraction of these may contain the germ of a useful idea. Others doubtless will reflect the result of an intimate understanding of the basic requirements of a province now permitted—by common consent—to get on with the job implicit in the policy speech which the Premier delivered in the Legislature at its final session in the spring.

Perhaps it may not be out of place to suggest to our people that they do what they can to improve their own knowledge of public affairs by taking a lively interest in the questions of the day. This is not intended to imply that any adult person is unmindful of the significance of the passing scene and its relationship to the welfare of the individual. At the same time, however, it has been brought home to us on numerous occasions in recent years that many of our citizens do not want to be "bothered" with politics. Yet politics is an all-embracing term. It has to do with civic government—the municipal taxpayers' most immediate concern. It has to do with provincial government—the electorate's wider interest. It has to do with national government—the business of some 13,000,000 Canadians.

This newspaper does not presume to "lecture" its readers. It gives them the credit for knowing what they want when they want it. There is nevertheless one point on which we consider the people of British Columbia might concentrate their intelligent consideration. For example, from time to time the workers and their employers find themselves in conflict, the one demanding more pay for less work, and the other wanting to know the reason for such a demand. They usually get together by crossing the bridge of compromise. What disturbs the public mind in the interval, however, is the interplay in which special pleading indulges for personal aggrandizement. This is the product of a condition which has thrived on indifference—indifference in the widest sense.

With most of the foregoing arguments docketed as more or less elementary, therefore, we repeat our congratulations to the

Johnson-Anscomb administration on its resounding victory and include the hope that all loyal British Columbians will get behind their government in that government's implacable determination to give the type of leadership which can guarantee political stability and sound economic prosperity.

AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATY

IT IS SYMPTOMATIC OF THE PECULIAR times in which we live that French hopes for agreement on an early Austrian peace treaty are predicated on the reported disinclination of Russia to support Yugoslav claims to territory of what was once a vitally-important segment of the Hapsburg domain. The assumption is that disaffection between Moscow and Belgrade over the Tito diversion from the Marx-Stalin line has robbed the latter of the backing of the Kremlin. Hence Yugoslavia becomes one of the less important co-belligerents whose claim to territorial compensation is not a matter of serious concern.

That, of course, is a purely negative way of looking at the Austrian situation. It is encouraging, however, to find any indication of settlement which enjoys the restrained blessings of the "Big Four." While the main body of thought on European peace treaties has been concentrated on Germany, the importance of Austria should not be ignored. That nation, too, has its contribution to make toward the restoration of continental economic health, although its significance is less than that of the defunct Third Reich from a point of industrial potential.

On this side of the Atlantic—and elsewhere—sympathies exist for the Austrians which have not been extended to the Germans. When Hitler, a former Austrian corporal, made good his boast of "going home" by forcing the Anschluss in 1938, he reduced to subjugation a once-proud people who had little in common with Nazi aggression.

Under these circumstances there must inevitably be a greater readiness on the part of the western allies to agree to relatively lenient terms for this ex-enemy state. Provided it suits the Russian book to discount Yugoslav territorial claims, and—for purposes of expediency—to make a show of yielding to western attitudes on settlements, the French announcement of probable treaty arrangements before the end of summer does not seem too unrealistic.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE

IN AN ADJACENT COLUMN ON THIS page, Mr. Walter Lippmann discusses the destructive results of the tactics used by some members of the United States Congress in the inquiries that continue in Washington. It is his opinion that the American people "some fine day . . . will become sick and tired of the little ranting, strutting men. They will insist that this disorderly conduct come to an end, and that the great decent majority in Congress reassert their rights and their dignity and their authority."

It seems desirable to draw to the attention of our civic leaders the analysis made by the distinguished author and columnist of the effects of unbecoming behavior in high places. This is not to suggest that our own public figures are guilty to the same degree of character assassination or disruption of the proper processes of government. It is, however, intended to point to some of the results that accrue from relatively irresponsible talk and discussions which serve little purpose other than to interfere with the efficient conduct of business and to destroy public confidence.

The debates which have surrounded the Memorial Arena furnish a case in point. It is true that the building is costing far more than original estimates. It is also true that mistakes have been made in its construction—mistakes which would have been remedied without publicity in the case of private construction. It is also true that the people who foot the bill should be given frank reports on progress and reasons for delay in completion of the edifice. But it is apparent that the debates on the subject have done far more than this in Victoria. They have created an impression of incompetence to a degree that has been scarcely justified. They have reflected on the abilities of council members. They have given rise to such adjectives as "bumbling" not only in respect to those directly connected with the arena but to civic management in general, and they have brought back into circulation talk of "white elephants" that is quite uncalled for.

Anyone who allows himself time to study the question or the personalities involved need have few misgivings over the sincerity or honesty of purpose of those connected with the arena issue. But ill-considered remarks, statements emerging more from emotion than reason, when voiced by those in positions of authority, undermine public trust. In some cases it might be well to think twice before speaking and then not to speak at all. Dramatics can be highly prejudicial to faith in those who employ them.

'SPOT I LIKE BEST'

MANY VISITORS DURING RECENT years have expressed different opinions of Victoria and Vancouver Island. The majority have been captivated by the natural beauties of the region, some by the charm of the people, others by the attraction of the gardens. Some, on the other hand, have contrasted the city and environs as they are today with those of earlier years, and have found the contrast unfavorable.

It is pleasant, therefore, to have another new opinion from Sir Donald Mackenzie-Kennedy, K.C.M.G., former governor of Mauritius, who explains quite simply: "I have seen a good deal of the world and this is the spot I like best." What better advertisement could be asked?

Walter Lippmann

END THIS DISORDERLY CONDUCT

IT IS ABOUT TIME to consider whether, as the showy investigations are now conducted, the United States is combating Communist propaganda, or providing it with superb material to frighten America's friends and cheer up her opponents.

By various proceedings, all of them under official auspices of one kind or another, the world is now being told that (1) the United States' principal military weapon, the atomic bomb, has been under incredible mismanagement, that (2) the principal means of delivering the bomb in case of war may have been selected by a combination of bad judgment and political corruption, and that (3) the government of the United States is permeated with spies.

IT WOULD BE misleading, I agree, to test the effect of all this by what Americans would think and say if the impossible happened—if in Moscow investigating committees appeared which began to announce that the Red Army was incredibly mismanaged, that its tanks, artillery, or jet fighters were wrongly designed and mixed up with financing the party, that the Politburo and the bureaus of the government were full of Fascist spies and capitalist fellow travelers. Americans would say hurrah, the monster is sick, victory is just around the corner, only fools will fear him, only fools will rely on him.

THE UNITED STATES would have some ground for jubilation because such an assault on the prestige of the Soviet government could not happen unless the police state was in fact cracking up. In a free society like that of the United States, when the prestige of the government is assaulted, it does not mean that the American system is cracking up. It means only that a fair number of crackpots have gotten further in public life than they or the country deserve. It is, however, not misleading to ask what Americans would think and do if, let us say, comparable charges were being made in the House of Commons. Suppose that in rapid succession Parliament set up elaborate and spectacular investigations which impugned the competence, or the honesty, or the loyalty of the departments charged with the inner and vital defences of Britain.

HOW WOULD Americans feel about the value of an alliance with a Britain which the British Parliament felt it must deal with in that fashion? And how ready would Senator Hickenlooper and the other guardians of United States national virtue be to put their trust in the British partnership? Would they not be issuing mimeographed statements and shouting over the microphone to beware, beware, beware?

After everything has been said about the good work that good investigations have done, and how much better it is to publish everything rather than to suppress anything, the fact remains that these investigations are running hog wild. They are injuring not only individuals but the name and honor of the United States, and the very principles of free government.

FOR IF THE PRINCIPLES of freedom do not mean loyalty to truth and justice, responsibility to the public interest, a decent respect for one's neighbors, and some charity, then freedom will perish in its own home, having become nothing more than the license to subvert the moral foundations of freedom.

This United States government, in view of the historic responsibility and the gigantic burden it bears, cannot be conducted in the kind of uproar which now prevails. Men cannot make the grave decisions of policy and administration which have to be made if at any hour of the day or night they have to stop thinking, stop planning, stop working in order to deny some new allegation, or to interrupt the public business to collect documents, memoranda, briefs, in order to prove their innocence to some senator who has already convicted them.

NOR CAN the American people hope to understand their own interests and purposes, or measure their duty, or hold accountable their servants for wise laws and good government, if all the great questions are drowned in this sticky stew of rumor, innuendo and suspicion. The American people deserve something a great deal better than that from men who have sought their votes, and profess to represent them and to serve them.

And some fine day they will become sick and tired of the little ranting strutting men. Then they will insist that this disorderly conduct come to an end, and that the great decent majority in Congress reassert their rights and their dignity and their authority.

Advice To Graduates

By BRUCE BLOSSAT, From New York

ITS graduation time again. Across the land, young men and women getting out of college are being advised by leading citizens how to meet the world.

Graduates are being told these are troublous times, that the threat of war hangs over us, that freedom is in peril from communism, that population is outrunning world resources, that our health, security and education need new safeguards, that a hundred other dire circumstances prevail.

Most of this may well be true. Certainly there have been more restful moments in history.

NOT HOPELESS

But however bleak the outlook, the graduation speakers are not counselling a mood of hopelessness. Something can be done about it. Much, depends, they say, on how the graduates themselves meet the challenge.

Nothing new in this kind of talk, of course. For long years every graduating class has been told to stick out its chin and face down the world. General exhortations to virtue are standard commencement fare.

We voice the fervent wish, however, that this time the speakers cut through the welter of the world's dilemmas and talk in simple, human terms that may serve as real guideposts to the graduates.

TEXT

Here's one approach we think of offhand that we would like to hear:

"You students are leaving the college world, where truth is the great, single, unifying goal. You are entering the outside world, where truth competes openly and often violently with falsehood, half-truth, and propaganda. You will bump into baffling mixtures of these elements."

"If you are ever to play any useful part in bettering the world, learn quickly to recognize these cheap alloys that corrupt truth. Resist their intrusion into your own thinking. War upon them wherever you find them."

"Distortions of truth are a prized weapon in the battle of ideas raging today. But truth is stronger and will blunt that weapon, however lethal it sometimes is."

"You will need courage to combat the users of falsehood and propaganda. They will too seldom be your avowed enemies. They may be in positions of power. They may even be, on occasion, your friends."

"But if you flinch from fighting them, you will go down in the struggle to bring peace and order and justice to this complex world."

"Presuming you do stand up for truth, don't resort to your opponents' tricks to beat them. Propaganda is not the antidote for propaganda."

ALL SHADES

"Don't rely upon name-calling and label-pinning. People, like the world, are complex. No short labels fit them. They are not conveniently divided among saints and sinners. In their personalities they are white and black and all the shades of grey between. So think hard and long before you dust off those handy little badges, labeled 'reactionary,' 'liberal,' 'fascist' and 'communist.' Judge people as total human beings, in the full light of their experience."

"If you can go out from here equipped with these attitudes, you will have made a big start toward helping crack the problems that beset us all."

A Television Face?

B.B.C. London Letter

NORMAN COLLINS, the controller of B.B.C. television, writing about the future of television in "The B.B.C. Quarterly," a journal for those engaged in broadcasting, disposes of a number of bogeys. He is reassuring about television's effect on family life, and he does not believe that it will ever destroy the cinema or the theatre. Social and gregarious human beings will always enjoy being together in the cinema, and the flesh and blood of the theatre will always be more exciting than figures on a frosted screen. Films, plays and television will, in his view, be co-existent.

EFFECT

But all the same, the B.B.C.'s

Calamity Howling

London (Ont.) Free Press

We cannot recall any single year when there was not a certain amount of calamity howling about weather and the crops. If it was not, in spring, it came in summer. If it missed each of these vital seasons then the harvest was bad. With all there was never a time when we did not have enough to eat. In these days we estimate living conditions at a high level. We expect a great deal of everything. Where our pioneer grandfathers were glad to have enough we demand surpluses. Fluctuations of the weather remind us how much we still depend on suitable seasons for our existence, how greatly even modern man is at the mercy of the elements.

television chief foresees that when there are as many viewers as there are now radio listeners, television's effect in the home will be enormous. Its likely influence on the young, for instance, he describes in these words: "Remember that the new generation will be able to switch on television as their parents once thought themselves lucky to switch on the light. Television is something that children will learn to accept as they now accept the toys in their nurseries. The faces and voices of the announcers will be as familiar as the faces and voices of their own families. They will be part of the everyday background of the home. But they will also represent something larger than the home: they will stand for the exciting adult world that is outside."

as well as the King's. Not that such a prospect is entirely unalarming. The B.B.C. is charged already with having, through its broadcasts, killed local accents and ruined local idioms. Shall we have a television face? A television collar-and-tie for males? A television hair style for women? A television smile?"

Cost Of War

Winnipeg Free Press

The tremendous waste of its resources inflicted on this world by war has often been a matter of study and comment. Yet because we have become case-hardened to astronomical spendings, the mere presentation of the figure representing the cost of the last war makes little impression on our minds.

However, a graphic translation of this figure into terms that no one can fail to grasp has been made by Governor Youngdahl of Minnesota. During an address to a Winnipeg gathering this week, he estimated that the last war had cost $1,000,000,000,000.

That sum, he said, is enough to build a five-roomed house for every family in the world and in addition to provide enough well-equipped hospitals for every person in the world and adequate schools for every child in the world.

That, in human, understandable terms, is the cost of the war which Hitler and his fellow Nazis forced upon the world.

Associated Press News Analyst

PEOPLE in the United States are watching with intense interest the advent of Franklin Delano Roosevelt Jr. into national politics, and not a few are wondering just what it means to a young man to follow in the footsteps of a famous father. Is it an advantage to the son or a handicap?

Years ago in England I put that rather searching question to my good friend, the late Sir Austen Chamberlain. He then was Foreign Secretary and had written his name indelibly into history as a prime mover in, and a signatory of, the Locarno Treaty of peace in 1925.

Sir Austen was son of the noted statesman Joseph "Joe" Chamberlain. He also was brother of Neville, who, as Prime Minister, later tried the unhappy experiment of appeasing Hitler—an experiment which your columnist witnessed at close range, having followed the Prime Minister to the conferences at Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and, finally, Munich. You will note that one brother was fortunate and the other encountered disaster.

I was spending the day with Sir Austen at his country home when I broached the question of how the fame of a father affected a son at the beginning of the latter's career. The Foreign Secretary smiled reminiscently, as he looked back more than a generation to his start in political life, and then replied in effect:

A BIG HELP

At the outset, of course, the father's position is of great help to the son. It provides the young man an entree which he might not otherwise have. It gives him useful friendships at a most trying period of his career. These things he gets because he is his father's son.

However, all that soon changes. His political associates unconsciously begin to measure him against the stature of his father. They look for far more from the young man than he should be expected to deliver with his lack of experience. Thus faults which might be overlooked in another apprentice are logged down against the son of the famous man.

A HANDICAP

On the whole, Sir Austen thought it was a severe handicap in the political world for a young man to have a noted father. Obviously he himself had overcome that handicap magnificently.

VOICING AN OPINION

Ottawa Journal

An election campaign reminds us that citizenship has its duties as well as its privileges, and just as vital as obeying the law and paying one's income tax honestly is the responsibility of choosing a good parliament on which a sound and efficient government can be based.

All that we take for granted. But the experience of many other countries, where liberty has been overthrown, shows it is a right that must be guarded sacredly.

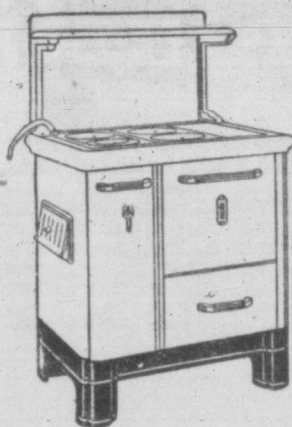

The common man is on guard when he votes. With millions of his fellow-citizens he is assuring continuance of the democratic system. He is saying he wants government of the people, for the people, and by the people.

NOT THE TIME

Financial Post

With buyer resistance at home and abroad stiffening, with consumers able to pick and choose their requirements in most lines after 10 years of shortages, this would look like the worst possible time for any labor leader to call a strike. Only under the most pressing circumstances, one would imagine, would any union head countenance such a step. Yet industry continues to be plagued with irresponsible and illegal strikes.

If ever there was a time for labor and management to settle down and work together it is now. The cost of living is leveling after a decade of climbing. There are more people employed in Canada and at higher wages than ever before in history. There is plenty of work waiting to be done, new country to be opened up, new tools and new processes required for this vital job of national development.

EASIEST WINNER IN ELECTION—Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, in his taxi office campaign headquarters at 2246 Oak Bay Avenue, personally took charge of receiving latest returns phoned in by district polling stations last night. The minister was confident of victory from the very start. His majority was over 5,000.

Anscomb Digs Into Work At His Oak Bay Headquarters

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb seemed the most confident of all candidates in the Greater Victoria area.

"He was at his campaign headquarters, a taxi office at 2246 Oak Bay Avenue, right from 8 o'clock when the polls closed. Seated by himself at a table in the window of the building, Mr. Anscomb displayed his executive ability by taking full charge over the goings on."

He personally answered all incoming phone calls from the district polling stations with a somewhat gruff "Anscomb here," then relayed the tabulations and issued instructions to his campaign helpers crowded over tally sheets.

Not knowing the name of one women scrutineer with whom he was talking, the finance minister concluded his telephone conversations with "thanks very much, lady."

Advertising Drive Beat C.C.F. Says Webber In Esquimalt

ers' Hall, expressed a willingness to concede the election to Cmdr. Charles T. Beard, Coalitionist, as early as 9 o'clock, only his supporters wouldn't let him.

"I figured we'd have to get Esquimalt (meaning the municipal area) if we were going to win," Mr. Webber told the Times. He left his committee rooms shortly after 9 with his son and daughter-in-law to go and have something to eat. He appeared at the Esquimalt returning officer's headquarters, at the Fraser Street Athletic Hall, at 10:05 to concede the victory to Cmdr. Beard.

"Their big advertising campaign paid off," he said in referring to the Coalition victory. "Of course," he continued, "this has been only one battle. The war goes on. We will start organizing for the next battle tomorrow."

The C.C.F. candidate in Saanich, Martin Neilson, spent his time listening to election broadcasts in Douglas Hall. Although quite a few of his supporters were on hand, the place sounded empty, except for the radio which blared out election returns.

Shortly after 10, a Vancouver radio announcer, reported Mr. Neilson had conceded the election to Arthur Ash, Coalitionist.

"That's news to me," commented Mr. Neilson dryly. "I didn't concede it. But I don't doubt what the man says."

Coalition Sweeps Vancouver Island Ridings

Lone C.C.F. Seat Lost; 1 Independent Wins

The Coalition made a clean sweep on Vancouver Island in the provincial general election Wednesday except for Alberni and it is not unhappy about the result there.

Of the 10 island seats in the Legislature, the Coalition won nine. The 10th seat, Alberni, went to James Mowat, Coalition member of the 21st Legislature, who was re-elected as an Independent.

The major victory for the government was in Cowichan-Newcastle where Andrew Whisker, the Coalition nominee, won the seat from Sam Guthrie, veteran C.C.F. member of the Legislature.

The result of the polling went like this:

Victoria Elects 3 Coalitionists

The Coalition victory in the three-member Victoria constituency was complete and decisive. The three Coalition candidates, Education Minister W. T. Straith, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and D. J. Proudfoot, won with about three votes to the C.C.F. candidates' one.

Mr. Straith and Mrs. Hodges were both re-elected. Mr. Straith has been a member of the Legislature since 1937, this being his fourth victory at the polls. He was chosen education minister, to succeed G. M. Weir who retired because of ill-health, by Premier Johnson when he formed his administration late in 1947.

Mrs. Hodges won her third victory. She was first elected in 1941.

Mr. Proudfoot, a private school teacher who served as chief warden in Victoria's civil defence organization during the war, will fill the seat vacated by former Premier John Hart. Mr. Hart retired as Premier late in 1947 and did not seek re-election.

Big Majority For Anscomb

Oak Bay electors, who since the formation of the constituency have always chosen Mr. Anscomb, returned the finance minister and provincial Progressive Conservative leader, with a bigger majority than in 1945. This majority will probably prove the biggest recorded by any member of the new Legislature.

In 1945 Mr. Anscomb's majority was 3,610. Wednesday he recorded a majority of 4,944 over his C.C.F. opponent Mrs. Patricia Luchinsky.

Mr. Anscomb's seat had been considered by many as the safest in the Legislature.

Ash Improves Vote In Saanich

First elected to the Legislature at a by-election in 1948, Arthur J. R. Ash, the Coalition candidate in Saanich, more than tripled his majority Wednesday. At the by-election, at which Colin Cameron, high C.C.F. official, was his chief opposition, Mr. Ash recorded 1,537 votes more than Mr. Cameron.

Opposed Wednesday by Martin Neilson, a veteran C.C.F. campaigner who has never won a provincial election, Mr. Ash won a majority of more than 5,000 votes.

He is a World War veteran and former member of the Ottawa City Council.

Coalition Wins Five-Way Battle

CMDR. C. T. BEARD

Esquimalt, where electors had five choices for their representative in the 22nd Legislature, returned the Coalition candidate, Cmdr. C. T. Beard, with a majority almost three times as great as in 1945.

Cmdr. Beard had battled with Reeve A. I. Thomas of Esquimalt for the nomination, and then entered a contest against Harry Webber, C.C.F., whom he had defeated in 1945; E. V. Finland, who had held the seat in the 20th Legislature; George E. Bonner, Independent, and Mrs. Ellen Hart, Union of Electors.

Cowichan Selects New Member

The C.C.F. hold on Cowichan-Newcastle was broken Wednesday for the first time in 12 years. Sam Guthrie, who was first elected to the Legislature in 1920 but was defeated in the 1928 and 1933 polls, only to win the last three general elections, bowed to Andrew Whisker, former member of the provincial labor department staff.

Mr. Whisker, who lives at 2574 Murray Drive here, is also a former logger and miner. He joined the labor department staff as a safety inspector in 1937 and was appointed chief administrative officer of the department in 1946. He resigned from the civil service this year to enter the political arena.

ANDREW WHISKER

Veteran Minister Re-Elected

PROVINCIAL SECRETARY PEARSON

A member of the Legislature since 1928, Provincial Secretary and Health and Welfare Minister George S. Pearson, who has served longer in the provincial cabinet than any other present member, was returned by the electors of Nanaimo-The Islands.

His opponents were both newcomers in the provincial political arena. They were David Stupich, 27, a 1949 University of B.C. graduate in poultry husbandry, the C.C.F. nominee, and Herbert William Summers, a Nanaimo auctioneer, Union of Electors candidate.

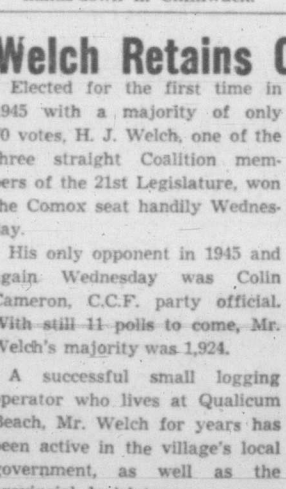

DIRECTOR OF CAMPAIGN CONGRATULATED—Herbert W. Davey, K.C., hard-working Coalition campaign manager, is thanked by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, successful candidate for Victoria. Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education, who has headed the polls, joined in congratulating Mr. Davey. Centre is Ed Whyte, assistant secretary for the Liberal Association.

HON. E. C. CARSON
Minister of Public Works, was re-elected in the Fraser Valley riding of Lillooet.

HON. GORDON S. WISMER
Minister of Labor and Attorney-General, was returned to office by Vancouver Centre voters.

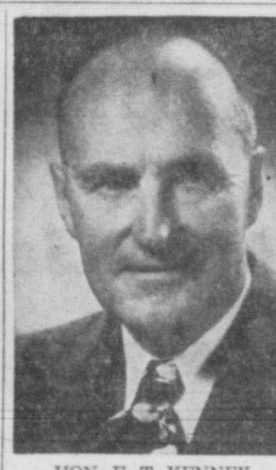

HON. LESLIE EYRES
Minister of Trade and Industry, Fisheries and Railways, won hands-down in Chilliwack.

JAMES MOWAT

Cabinet Winners

HON. E. T. KENNEY
Minister of Lands and Forests, was again successful in Skeena, with a large majority.

HON. R. C. MACDONALD
Minister of Municipal Affairs, had a stiff battle in his Dewdney riding but picked up a fair majority to win.

H. J. WELCH

Welch Retains Comox For Govt.

Elected for the first time in 1945 with a majority of only 70 votes, H. J. Welch, one of the three straight Coalition members of the 21st Legislature, won the Comox seat handily Wednesday.

His only opponent in 1945 and again Wednesday was Colin Cameron, C.C.F. party official. With still 11 polls to come, Mr. Welch's majority was 1,924.

A successful small logging operator who lives at Quallcum Beach, Mr. Welch for years has been active in the village's local government, as well as the provincial legislature.

Alberni Returns James Mowat

A quiet, unassuming merchant who came to Canada from the Orkney Islands, James Mowat, who failed to win the Coalition nomination, won the election. Defeated by T. W. Christie president of Comox-Alberni federal Liberal Association by 20 votes in the battle for the nomination, Mr. Mowat beat Jack Whittall, C.C.F., by more than 1,000 votes at the polls.

Mr. Christie placed third, while one of the two Labor Progressive candidates in the whole province, Nigel Morgan, made the poorest showing.

Cmdr. Beard's Aunt On Surprise Visit Celebrates Victory

Mrs. Edward Taschereau from Quebec, Que., arrived in Victoria on a flying visit from the east Wednesday, and wanted to know where her nephew was.

Her nephew, it turned out, was Cmdr. Charles Beard.

News that Cmdr. Beard was seeking re-election to the B.C. Legislature and that he was a very busy man for the day, seemed to come as a surprise to the visitor. But more anxious than ever to see her nephew, she decided to spend the evening at Cmdr. Beard's campaign headquarters, 1232 Esquimalt Road.

When returns showed the commander was definitely slated for re-election, Mrs. Taschereau joined Coalitionists in their victory celebration.

Insists Of Charging Brazilian Diplomat

TORONTO (CP)—Police Chief Joe Nelson of suburban Port Credit today stood firm in his determination to prosecute Cai de Lima Cavacanti, commercial councillor of the Brazilian embassy at Ottawa, on a charge of speeding.

"It will be treated just the same as any ordinary charge," Chief Nelson said today. "And it now lies in the hands of the magistrate."

The case, which has developed into a legal tangle, is scheduled to come before the court in two weeks unless the presiding magistrate rules Cavacanti is exempt through his diplomatic standing.

Chief Nelson previously had refused a request from the External Affairs Department that the charge be dropped on the ground that the commercial councillor is entitled to "diplomatic immunity."

Italo-Polish Pact

ROME (AP)—Italy and Poland Wednesday signed a $50,000,000 trade agreement. Under it Italy will send Poland fruits and vegetables, machinery, zinc, tires and textiles. She will receive in exchange coal, cereals, chemicals and lumber.

Returns From B.C. Constituencies

Following are the results of voting in the British Columbia general election:

Legend: Cln—Coalition; CCF—Co-operative Commonwealth Federation; Lab—Labor; Lab-Prog—Labor Progressive; SC—Social Credit; Soc-Lab—Socialist Labor; UE—Union of Electors; Con—Conservative; Ind—Independent; *—Member of last House.

Figures bracketed after constituency name indicate party majority in last election or by-election.

Park Commissioners To Hit Vandalism

NANAIMO—With vandalism hitting a new high in this up-island community, park commissioners have indicated they intend to apprehend at least one offender.

Action followed the discovery of a .22 calibre rifle which had been used to smash a floodlight on top of a 50-foot pole at the Central Sports Grounds.

A bullet-punctured reflector was found by an electrician and empty shells were picked up at the foot of the pole and turned over to the police.

Philip J. Piper, park board chairman, said the concession building on the same grounds had been burglarized three times this year and a swing shutter damaged earlier this week. Bulbs have been torn up and beds trampled in public squares, he said.

Know Your LIBERAL LEADERS

The Right Honorable Louis Stephen St. Laurent

"Eight years ago, when he was drafted into the Canadian Government for honorary wartime service," writes Bruce Hutchinson in a recent article, "Louis St. Laurent naively confessed: 'I know nothing of politics and have had nothing to do with politicians.'" Today, at sixty-seven, he is Prime Minister of Canada and a world figure.

Charming, scholarly, distinguished, he is the man, who, with blunt courage, persuaded Quebec to accept conscription, who smashed the spy ring in Canada and who has stood the test of heavy opposition fire during these uneasy years following the peace.

When Minister of Justice Lapointe died in 1941, and the Party was without a French-Canadian leader in Quebec, Louis St. Laurent left a $100,000-a-year law practice in Montreal to perform the great duty that lay before him in Ottawa. It was not too long before he made the famous speech that persuaded his fellow French-Canadians to accept conscription. In it, he repudiated the theory held by many French-Canadians that the provincial autonomy granted them under the constitution extends to military service.

Formerly a dark horse in Canadian politics, now a winner, Mr. St. Laurent is the uncompromising leader of Canada's new internationalism. He favors a real reciprocity with the United States and drastic reduction of tariffs. He wants a total overhaul of North America's daily business. He wants to achieve co-ordination of the economic power of Canada and the United States.

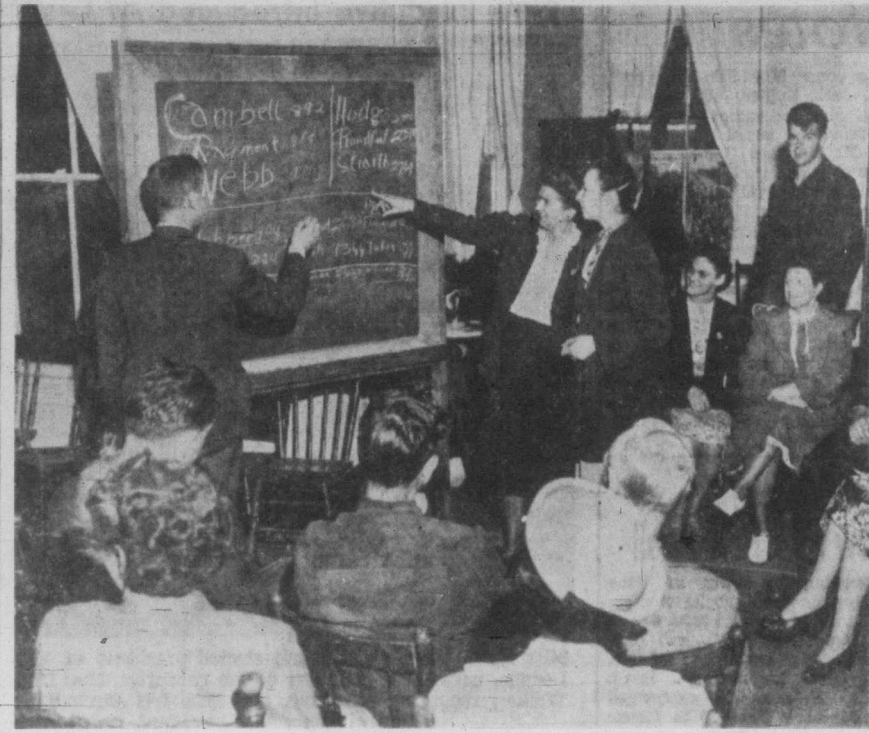

His speeches are packed with commonsense, not flowery rhetoric. With an Irish mother and a French-Canadian father, he says: "I didn't know until I was ten years old that all fathers didn't speak French and all mothers English." Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent is a great man with great courage.

THE SAD STORY—C.C.F. candidates, Mrs. Mary Campbell and 22-year-old Miss Phyllis Webb, watch election returns being marked up on the bulletin board in party headquarters. From the start the candidates were outdistanced by their Coalition opponents.

C.C.F. Hope Fades Quickly As Early Count Shows Defeat

At C.C.F. Headquarters, 857 Pandora Avenue, two C.C.F. candidates and supporters gathered around a bulletin board after polling booths closed.

Faces were tense when early results from the elections began to flow in from the various polling booths in Greater Victoria. A stony silence prevailed, broken only by the rings of a telephone and the voice of a radio announcer.

As it became apparent that Coalition candidates were climbing to victory, faces began to lengthen and the eyes glued to the chalked-up bulletin board registered only deep disappointment.

When polling results showed that the three Victoria Coalition candidates were well in the lead, C.C.F. supporters switched their interest to the B.C. mainland, in the hopes of hearing more cheerful reports.

Hope faded quickly, however, when report after report showed that the majority of Coalition candidates were forging ahead of their C.C.F. opponents.

"I never expected such a landslide," said a C.C.F. party organizer. His face was red and he puffed at a short end of a cigarette nervously. "They are hard nuts to crack."

The two C.C.F. candidates, Mrs. May Campbell and Miss Phyllis Webb, who listened to the election results at the party headquarters, accepted defeat philosophically.

Miss Webb, a 22-year-old University of British Columbia graduate, was the most hopeful of the C.C.F. candidates.

"It was my first step in politics," she said, "and I've gained valuable experience. I know I'm in the right party and I intend to keep fighting for the C.C.F. cause."

She was cheerful about her defeat and showed no signs of resentment.

Mrs. Campbell, a housewife, was more emphatic with her comments on the election results. "A tremendous progress has been made possible by the sincere support and sacrifice of C.C.F. workers," she said. "We do not consider we are defeated."

She paused for a while as if in search for words to express herself. "Each failure is a stepping-stone to success," she added. "We are going forward in spite of everything. The thousands who have voted for us will increase our efforts in the next four years which we are sure will bring us victory."

She expressed the hope that the people who voted for the Coalition government would not be disappointed with their choice. Later in the evening Mrs. Percy Rayment, the third C.C.F. candidate, with cane in hand, walked into the C.C.F. Hall. She looked tired. "I'm not disappointed, because I expected defeat," she said as she reached for a hot cup of steaming coffee. "But I'm disappointed with the results for the whole province."

Mrs. Patricia Mary Luchinsky, C.C.F. candidate for Oak Bay, also stopped over at the party headquarters.

"I expected nothing else but defeat," she said smilingly. "After all I was contesting a seat in the toughest constituency in British Columbia."

She expressed the hope that the C.C.F. Party would eventually gain power in the province. "We believe there is better future for the people in British Columbia," she stated. "For this reason I believe we will continue to grow in strength."

Candidates and supporters at the end of the evening relaxed drinking coffee and began talking of the next election.

The saddest-looking individual was an old man who walked out of the party headquarters with head bent and saying to himself: "Defeated, defeated again."

Following a picnic supper, there will be a performance by the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band and community singing led by Roberto Wood, director of music at the church.

Transportation to the picnic will leave the church at 1.30, 2.5 and 5.30 Saturday afternoon.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Folkard, Canoe, B.C., with their small son, Randy, are visitors in Victoria, staying at 940 Queens Avenue. Mr. Folkard is in Victoria to attend the Masonic Grand Lodge in session here at present.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hurn, Miss Joyce Armstrong, and Mr. Bert Whitehead, all of Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Max Elder of Sooke, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Brooke of Shawnigan Lake, were all in the city to attend the Deall-Repton wedding recently.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Calvert, 3431 Mayfair Road, have had as their guest for the past week, Mrs. Calvert's sister, Mrs. H. A. Gourlay of Banff. Mrs. Gourlay is now spending several days in Vancouver before returning to Banff. She also traveled to Seattle prior to her Victoria visit.

Dr. and Mrs. Terrence Todd arrived in Victoria yesterday and will spend the next 10 days here as guests of Mrs. Gordon Hepburn, 1069 Beach Drive. Dr. Todd has recently graduated from McGill University, and when he and Mrs. Todd return by plane to Montreal, will begin his internship in July. The couple have been visiting Mrs. Todd's father, Mr. Frank Wilgress in Vancouver.

Mrs. C. James Rankin, 1897 Monteth Street, and her small daughter, Diane, will leave for Vancouver tomorrow where they will attend the marriage of Miss Patricia Bell-Irving, when she becomes the bride of Mr. Charles Wilson Saturday. Diane will be one of the flower girls for her cousin, and she and her mother will be guests of Mrs. Rankin's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Burke, while in Vancouver.

Mrs. D. M. Emery, 1645 Broadmead Avenue, entertained at her home with a miscellaneous shower for Miss Virginia Tulloch whose marriage takes place Friday evening. A corsage bouquet of carnations was presented to the bride-elect, and her gifts were contained in a huge pink swan. Games were played and refreshments served. Guests included—Mesdames T. Johanson, T. Bartlett, J. McGrath, R. McGrath, J. Broadhurst, R. Clements, K. Ware, E. Edwards, R. Stark, and Miss Pat Emery.

Miss Eva-Lind Hunter was guest of honor on Tuesday evening when her co-workers of the Dominion Laboratory of Forest Pathology, entertained at a surprise miscellaneous shower at the home of her mother, 115 Cambridge Street. A novelty "test-tube" corsage bouquet of pansies and roses was presented to the bride-elect, and her mother received tallman roses. Gifts centred under a green and pink decorated umbrella. Guests included Mrs. J. L. Hunter, Dr. M. K. Nobles, Mesdames R. E. Foster, A. T. Foster, H. M. McNaughton, M. M. Howson and Misses Joyce Foster, Evelyn Hawkins, Kathleen Taylor and June Short.

To honor Miss Elna Marr and Mr. Jack Spiller, who will be married at the end of this month, a strawberry social was held by the Metropolitan United Church Young Peoples' Union, at the home of vice-president, Miss June Ann Baily. Assisting the hostess were Misses Irene and Kay Angus, and Messrs. Don Walker and Doug Robinson. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of roses, and on behalf of the group, Mr. Walker presented the couple with a blanket. In compliment to the groom, a teacher, shower gifts were hidden in a miniature school house. There were 25 guests present.

Isabelle Repton Now Mrs. R. A. Deall

Swelling the ranks of June newlyweds are Isabelle Repton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Repton, of Trail, and Raymond Allan Deall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Deall, R.R.1, Victoria, who exchanged nuptial vows June 10 in Metropolitan United Church.

The couple are now on honeymoon in California and will return to make their home at 1521 Camosun Street.

For the ceremony performed by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, the bride wore a gown of frosted orchid-toned organza, embellished with lily of the valley and lovers knots, and styled on early Victorian lines. Her long mittens were of matching orchid organza. She wore a Mary Stuart halo with her chapel veil, and held an ivory bible, mounted with dewy gardenias and showered with yellow rosebuds.

Miss Zena Logan of Vancouver was honor maid for her cousin. Her gown of lemon yellow nylon net was in bouffant mode, and complemented with bandeau of yellow tulle trimmed in ribbons. Deep purple violets and mauve sweet peas were in her bouquet.

Brother, the groom's William Day and Thomas Newsome were ushers.

Soloist Mrs. Don Jacobs of fered "Because" while the register was signed.

A reception followed in the lower Crystal Garden ballroom, where the newlyweds stood beneath a decorated arch to receive more than 100 guests.

The bride's table was set with a three-tier cake, and vases of rosebuds, and silver candleabra completed the decorations.

Toast was proposed by Don Phillips, uncle of the groom.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a winetoned suit with accessories in grey, and grey nylon net, halo hat with pink rose trim.

For a delicious dessert spread sweetened and cornstarch-thickened apricot whole fruit nectar between layers of freshly baked quick mix cake. Dust the top with powdered sugar and cut in pie-shaped wedges to serve. This is extra popular with career-homemakers who must budget their time in the kitchen.

New Executive Introduced At Last Night's Banquet

Miss Bette Marr, right, newly-elected president of the Queen Alexandra Solarium League, with three members of the executive, Miss Barbara Hill, treasurer; Miss Beth Walker, recording secretary, and Miss Iris Birchall, corresponding secretary. Junior League Holds Banquet Meeting On Tenth Anniversary

More than 115 members of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League, with members of the Solarium board and friends, attended the 10th annual meeting of the league, held Wednesday evening in the form of a banquet in the clubhouse at the Victoria Golf Club.

Miss Gwen Mann, retiring president, acted as chairman. Seated with her at the head table were Logan Mayhew, chairman of the board, and Mrs. Mayhew; Rev. William Hills; Walter Luney, chairman of the building and grounds committee, and Mrs. Luney; Mrs. Margaret Drinkwater, Vancouver, representing the Thetis Chapter of the league; Mrs. Latzie McCulloch, one of the first presidents of the league; the president-elect, Miss Betty Marr, and members of the retiring executive, Mrs. Dorothy McMasters, Mrs. Howard Damaske and Mrs. J. Genest.

Also present was Mr. F. E. Winslow, vice-president of the Solarium board, and Mrs. Winslow; and Miss Jean Duff, Vancouver, a member of the Thetis Club.

Seven charter members of the league were honor guests. Mrs. Margaret McClung, Mrs. Vivian Moore, Mrs. Jo Davis, Mrs. Gwen Watkins, Mrs. Latzie McCulloch.

$16,000 In Cheques Given To Solarium

Ten years ago when Mrs. Frank Stevens, Calgary, then Miss Margaret Ventreight, gathered a small group of 12 girls together to work for the Queen Alexandra Solarium, the goal set for the first year was a sum of $500.

At that time $500 was thought an ambitious sum, and the group worked extremely hard to attain their goal.

Today, the Solarium Junior League has a membership of 45 and at the annual meeting held in clubhouse at Victoria Golf Club yesterday evening, the president, Miss Gwen Mann, gave Logan Mayhew, president of the board, cheques amounting to more than $16,000.

A cheque for $700 is to be used for the league bursary to enable a nurse at the Solarium to take post-graduate training; $1,000 will be used to complete the splint shop, and a cheque for $14,500 will be used for general maintenance.

Miss Mann presented another cheque for $100 to Mrs. A. Jones, president of the Solarium Women's Auxiliary, to assist in the auxiliary's work.

The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. Nona Damaske, showed that the league had also supplied during the year, monies for clothing, multiple vitamins, beds, fluorescent lighting, blankets, candy and decorations, allergy proofed mattress and pillow covers, chairs, and a pressure cooker.

Many projects were undertaken during the year, reports of both Miss Mann and Mrs. Damaske showed, outstanding events being the Shower of Dimes, the Christmas pantomime, the Snow Ball Frolic, monies received from a professional wrestling match and a Klondike Night.

Peppy sea food cocktails make an impressive beginning for dressed-up dinner menus. To make them even better, cut ripe olives into quarters and include with the other ingredients. Be sure to include a little horseradish in the dressing.

Rev. Waters Opens Strawberry Social

The strawberry social held by Doreene McLeod Oak Bay Group of First United Church was officially opened by Rev. Moir A. J. Waters, with a brief address and prayer.

The many visitors were welcomed by co-conveners Mrs. J. A. M. Beere and Mrs. H. Meyers. A musical program was presented and included vocal solos by Miss Marion Mitchell and Mrs. R. H. Nash, accompanied by Mrs. J. Cruickshank.

Presiding at the urns were Mrs. Moir A. J. Waters, Mrs. R. L. Cox, Mrs. S. Smart and Mrs. B. L. Brown.

Corsage bouquets were sold by two little flower girls, Misses Myrre Beere and Diane Wiper, who wore colorful floor-length frocks.

V.O.N. Visits Doubled; 1,793 Calls Made In May

The V.O.N. board of management meeting took place at the Y.W.C.A. on Monday, with Mrs. J. Harold Wilson, president, in the chair. Mrs. Wilson introduced Miss Christine Livingston, chief superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, visiting from Ottawa, and Miss Esther Robertson, western supervisor from Vancouver. R. L. Blaisdell, executive secretary of the Community Chest, was also present. In comparing her monthly report of May, 1948, with that of May, 1949, Miss Marjorie Baird, branch supervisor, announced that visits of every type had doubled this year. Much nursing care has been given to the aged and infirm, one patient receiving 100 visits in the past year, she noted. The total number of calls attended in May, 1949, were 1,793. Health instruction was given to 268 patients: expectant mothers receiving 50 visits; 565 calls made to mothers with new babies, and cancer treatment was supplied to 66 people. Chronic or those with continuing illness, received 457 visits. Medical and surgical aid was supplied to 387 persons. Miss Christine Livingston, in her message to the V.O.N. board, expressed her pleasure in the enthusiasm and interest shown and time spent by the governing boards of branches. Across Canada, Miss Livingston noticed an increase of tuberculosis, chronic or continuing illness visits, made by V.O.N. nurses. The latter is a major public health program, she said. The patients, if not receiving this care from the nurses, would of necessity be hospitalized. She spoke of a project in caring for people with long term illnesses, originated in the Montefiore Hospital of New York, by Dr. S. Cherkasy. This method brings total care from hospital into the home, she said. Emphasis was placed on the working together of health and welfare organizations. In referring to municipal grants, Miss Livingston stated that they should be based on service rendered by the V.O.N. nurses in that municipality, the number of free visits taken into consideration. A letter was read from Mrs. W. Lambert, board member of Victoria, who attended the 51st annual meeting in Ottawa in May, in which the Victoria branch of the V.O.N. was mentioned as being the model division after which other branches should be patterned. Mrs. George Hall read the treasurer's report. In a report from the Junior V.O.N.'s, made by Mrs. K. C. Sedgman, president, plans were announced for a tea, open to the public, to be held in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Co., on June 24. It was noted that the junior group supplied a filing cabinet for the nurses' office.

John Morgan, LaHonda Walton Married In Georgetown Rites

Of special interest in this city, the home of the groom's parents was the wedding in Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Georgetown, on June 11 at 10 a.m. Principals in the ceremony were Miss LaHonda Jo Walton, daughter of Mrs. Cleo Swafford, Washington, D.C., and Corpus Christi, Texas, and John Daniel Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Morgan, The Priory, 729 Pemberton Road. The newlyweds, both of whom will graduate from Georgetown University School of Foreign Service next year, will make their home in Georgetown, following their wedding trip in Colorado. Father Richard M. Coolahan read the nuptial service. Given in marriage by her brother, Milton M. Walton, the bride wore a brocaded satin gown designed with fitted bodice of Chantilly lace. Similar lace was combined with tulle illusion in her full-length veil crowned with a tiara of orange blossoms and rhinestones. Elbow-length white kidskin gloves completed her ensemble and she carried a prayer book topped with white roses and cascaded with streamers knotted in orange blossoms. Honor maid was Miss Marie Therese Houser, a classmate of the bride. She wore a peacock blue taffeta dress, yellow floral bandeau and carried a spray of yellow carnations. Miss Tomie Morgan, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, wore a similar gown. Her bandeau was pink toned and she carried a carnation spray. A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's mother, and was followed by a small reception. The bride, formerly of Austin and Corpus Christi, Texas, attended West Texas State College and Corpus Christi Junior College. She is a member of the Propeller Club and the Deutscher Verein, at Georgetown University. Also a member of the Deut-

Monday Bridge, Tea To Aid Cancer Fund

Members of the Canadian Daughters' League, Assembly No. 5, made final plans for their bridge and tea to be held Monday afternoon at 2 in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company, at their recent meeting in the B. and P. W. Clubrooms. Mrs. Gladys Jasper, convener, stated that players must bring their own cards and covers and that tea guests would be welcome. Proceeds will aid the Cancer Research Fund, she announced.

President Mrs. R. Milburn reported on the Local Council of Women meeting, and Mrs. M. E. Gardiner told of plans being made for the Canadian Daughters' League Provincial Finance Committee. Mrs. Ida Ledingham was named general convener of the bazaar to be held in the fall.

A collection was taken to finance parcels for Britain, and Mrs. Norman Taylor is in charge. A sewing meeting will be held June 28 at the social meeting convened by Group 2. Members were reminded that "I Am a Canadian Day" would be held at Beacon Hill Park June 26, at 2.30.

Clubwomen's News

Fashion Show—Mrs. H. Siogquist, convener of the Kermess to be held in August, announced that a special feature of the affair would be a fashion show, when she reported to the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, at a meeting in Mahon Hall, Ganges, Salt Spring Island. Mrs. J. Deyell reported on prize donations made for the affair. Mrs. J. B. Acland, presiding officer, presented an account of the annual convention held recently, and a report of the local zone council meeting in Duncan was given by Mrs. A. Francis. Mrs. W. A. Brown resigned as assistant secretary, and Mrs. H. Loosmore was elected to the office. Mrs. G. Lowe noted that a parcel of clothing had been sent to Britain, and Mrs. H. Wood reported on a gift made to a local veterans wife in hospital. Mrs. E. Ashlee, a new member, was welcomed. It was decided that there would be no meeting for the next two months.

Personal Notes

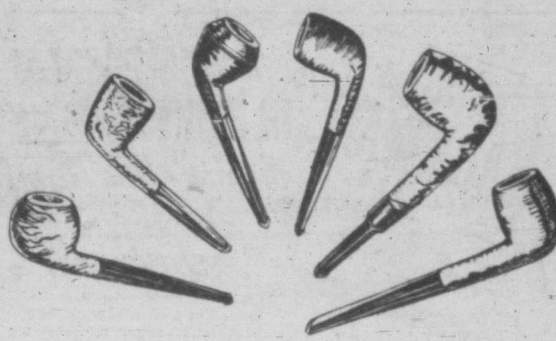

Mrs. Jean MacDonald and Misses Dorothy Cogswell and Leah Halsall of Loretto Hall were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower for bride-elect, Miss Elinor Robb. The bride-elect of this week was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Gifts were arranged in a pink and white umbrella. A decorated cake made by the Sisters of Loretto Hall, was ceremoniously cut by the bride-elect. A beautiful pair of linen cutwork pillows cases were presented to Miss Robb by the Sisters of Loretto Hall. Those present were Mesdames G. Booth, J. MacDonald, M. Barker and G. Cagnat, Misses L. Halsall, D. Cogswell, J. Waldie, S. Bigmore, S. Brenton, P. Clarke, O. Green, W. Watson, G. Kerr, H. Bourlier, E. Cove, M. Banko, P. Schoen and B. Eagles.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Baker, Metchosh, V.I., announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Olive Lydia, to Yvo Patrick Agmondisham-Vesey, only son of Mrs. E. N. Agmondisham-Vesey, 161C Robertson Street, Victoria. The wedding will take place on Tuesday, June 21, 1949, at 8 o'clock, in St. Mary's Church, Metchosh.

July Bazaar—Ladies' Auxiliary to Prince Edward Branch, No. 91, Canadian Legion, met in Dunford Road Hall, Langford, and made plans for a bazaar to be held in the legion hall, July 6 at 8. Arrangements were discussed for a variety of stalls and contests, and it was announced that Mrs. David Swan, provincial president, would open the affair. Mrs. J. B. Bell, presiding officer, reported on the legion convention held recently. A committee was named to place flowers on soldiers' graves at Colwood Burial Park, on Armistice Day and at Easter. Further plans were made for the zone council meeting to be held in the legion hall.

"Try this Easy Recipe for a really luscious cake"

says Martha Logan

WILD ROSE CAKE

Preparation: Heat all ingredients at room temperature. Pre-heat oven and set at 375°F. Line bottoms of two 9-inch layer or three 8-inch layer cake pans with waxed paper.

Ingredients: (Use standard level measures)
1/2 cup Swift's
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tsp. vanilla
4 egg whites
5/8 tsp. single-acting baking powder (or 4 tps. double-acting)

Step 1: Place Swift's in bowl. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into bowl. Add 1/2 cup milk and vanilla. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer, or by hand, using 150 strokes per minute. Keep scraping batter off sides and bottom of mixer bowl with rubber scraper.

Step 2: Add 4 unbeaten egg whites, and 1/2 cup milk. Beat for 2 additional minutes. Scrape bowl and beaters. Pour equal amounts of batter into prepared cake pans. Bake about 28 minutes. When cake is done it will spring back quickly when pressed by the finger. Cool on cake rack 30 minutes; loosen sides carefully with spatula, invert on rack, remove pans. When thoroughly cool, fill and frost.
Serving Cream Frosting: Cream 1/2 cup Swift's until soft and fluffy. Beat in 1/2 cup salt and 1 tsp. vanilla. Add 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar gradually, alternating with 1 tsp. hot milk. Beat until smooth and creamy.
For wild rose flowers, cut very thin slices from large round pink gum drops, using a sharp knife dipped in hot water. Allow 3 petals for each flower. Arrange flowers on top of cake. Use yellow tinted shredded coconut for centre of flower. Place green tinted shredded coconut around the sides of the cake. To tint coconut: To each cup of moist coconut, add 1 tablespoon water mixed with two drops food colouring and stir breakly with a fork until coconut is evenly tinted.

Climate Of Confidence Declared Needed For Foreign Investment

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Believe it or not, there is a lot of money in the world looking for a place to go.

A resolution was passed Wednesday at the International Chamber of Commerce convention in Quebec designed to provide that if it goes somewhere it will have some guaranty of coming back.

It was a resolution of the group discussing fair treatment for foreign investments and foreign enterprises, and like other group resolutions, goes to Friday's final plenary session for approval.

The resolution approves a code for such fair treatment and comments: "If there is to be revival of private international investment on a scale sufficient to meet present-day needs, there must first be created a climate of confidence. The private investor is free to invest or not as he pleases.

"If the conditions surrounding the investment are unattractive, he will simply refrain from putting up his money. . . .

"Inter-governmental lending, valuable as it has been and still is in the emergency period following the war, cannot be more than a temporary expedient—it must be supplemented and progressively replaced by substantial movements of private capital."

Peter Vieli of Switzerland, chairman of the group meeting, expanded on the matter to a press conference, and pictured a world with large areas requiring development, with a great deal of private money available to do it, but with lack of confidence keeping the two from getting together.

Countries like Switzerland and the United States have too much capital, he stated.

GUARANTEE NEEDED

If, however, their investors put their money in other countries they need some guarantee that they can get it back when they need it; that it won't face the risk of being wiped out by nationalization; and that it will come back in the currency in which it went in—not in some depreciated currency.

"Unless foreign investment can have confidence, the economic recovery of the world is impossible."

Acceptance by governments of the I.C.C. code would, he said, save the world.

Another resolution passed Wednesday by a group meeting, that of transport and communications, asked removal of discrimination in shipping, Left Hoega of Norway, chairman, told a press conference that considerable discrimination arises through direct agreements between governments, under which one or other requires that goods be carried in its ships. He said the resolution did not refer to the shipping provisions of the European Recovery Program.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now it can be told—about how Betty Grable almost retired after her last picture.

The beautiful blonde told me she almost quit the movie business after her recent western. The reason: A behind-scenes feud with triple-threat genius Preston Sturges.

"I was so mad I left the set after the last scene of the picture without even saying goodbye to anybody in the crew," she said. "That's the first time I've done that since I've been in the business."

It seems that Grable and Sturges disagreed on the story and almost everything. Betty, who has usually placed her film fate entirely in studio hands, carried her beef to production boss Darryl Zanuck.

She's a happy gal again. She's now doing "Wabash Avenue," which is the kind of thing Grable fans like. In fact, it's her "Coney Island" vehicle with the locale switched to Chicago at the time of the 1893 World's Fair.

It's another costume picture, but this time Betty isn't wearing corsets.

"They were hurting my back," she said, "so I took off some weight in the right places and now I don't have to wear them."

NOTES FROM ALL OVER

Humphrey Bogart tried to borrow Lauren Bacall for his own production, "In a Lonely Place," but got a flat "No" from Warners. That isn't helping relations between Bogie and his home lot.

Gloria Graham was about to be dropped by R.K.O. Then the studio heard she was wanted by two other companies, including Columbia, which had her in mind for "Born Yesterday." Result: R.K.O. picked up her option, but still has no plans for her.

Gloria is my candidate to take over the spot vacant since the death of Jean Harlow.

James Cagney finishes "White Heat" in a week and heads to New England for the summer. He'll be back in the fall to do another film. Jim tells me that "A Lion Is In The Street" (on the Huey Long theme) won't be made for another two years. By that time "All the King's Men," which is in a similar vein, will be played out.

U.S. House Passes Pay Raise For Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise bill to increase pay in the United States armed services was passed Wednesday by the House of Representatives and sent to the Senate. Individual raises in the bill would range from about 3 per cent for the next to lowest rank up to approximately 37 per cent for generals and admirals and two high non-commissioned grades.

Medical Association Says Canada Needs Hospital Insurance

SASKATOON (CP)—The general council of the Canadian Medical Association announced Wednesday night that the C.M.A. proposes to "adopt all means within its power to further the development and extension of prepaid medical care in Canada."

It said in a statement that "the first and most urgent stage" in a voluntary health program should be "devoted to meeting the costs of hospitalization for every citizen of Canada."

The basic part of the hospitalization cost should be met by individual contribution, the responsible government body bearing in whole or in part the cost for those persons unable to provide the contribution for themselves.

"The C.M.A. will gladly cooperate in the preparation of detailed schemes which have as their object the removal of any barriers which exist between people and the medical services they need and which respect the essential principles of the profession," the general council said.

In Cochinchina and Cambodia, heavy rains called monsoons last from October to April.

Great Victory For Free Enterprise Says Johnson

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Premier Byron I. Johnson said Wednesday night the victory of the Coalition government at the polls "is a great victory for free enterprise."

In a statement issued just after he learned his government had won 40 of the 48 seats in the Provincial Legislature, the 58-year-old Premier said: "The people of this province, for the first time since 1933, have indicated in no uncertain terms that free enterprise is the form of economy they want."

"The results, both definite and indicated by incomplete returns is convincing proof that the people of B.C. have confidence in the principles of private business and personal initiative."

"They (the voters) have certainly turned their backs on any experiment in Socialism."

Premier Johnson said his government is "determined" to carry out the mandate it received from the people "for it constitutes an endorsement of the manifesto which the Coalition government presented to the electors."

He praised Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, Progressive Conservative leader, for his "determination to make this victory complete by carrying on a vigorous campaign despite ill-health."

"It is a tribute to his sincerity and desire to serve the people according to the principles to which he subscribed."

Wyoming Pilot In Day's Flights Kills 128,000,000 Grasshoppers

By BEN FUNK

WORLAND, Wyo. (AP)—Affable Archie Geiser, who riddled a lot of C-54 transports over the Hump during the war, went on a bombing mission and killed 128,000,000 of the enemy.

His victims were grasshoppers. His bomb load was 7,350 pounds of poison bran.

This happened on a single flight Wednesday. Archie is making about eight a day and will continue this schedule for 40 days, which certainly should make him number one on the grasshoppers' blacklist.

Geiser pilots a C-47, which is the spearhead in the government's air war to head off a new grasshopper invasion of the grain belt. About 25 other smaller planes are being used.

The 128,000,000 is a theoretical but conservative figure. Ground investigations after previous flights have shown a kill of 90 to 95 per cent of the 'hoppers in the area pelted with poison.

Geiser was bombarding a section in which experts had estimated the grasshopper population at a minimum of 20 in the square yard. He sprayed 1,470 acres in the single flight.

The bran was funneled from trucks into a compartment which takes up most of the fuselage of the C-47. A 15-minute flight put the plane over its target area—a stretch of eroded land at the base of a low mountain range.

Geiser and other pilots are expected in the coming month to wipe out the grasshopper menace

Rural Baby Show At All Sooke Day

SOOKE—One of the highlights of "All-Sooke Day," to be held July 27, at Sooke River Flats, will be the annual baby show for children 18 months and under.

The Victoria Daily Times will present prizes for the best baby from any rural district of Vancouver Island entered in the show. There are other prizes.

Babies may be entered at the baby tent on "All-Sooke Day" up to 2:45 in the afternoon. Dr. Russell Robertson will judge at 3. Mrs. H. L. Roberson is in charge of the baby show.

Firemen Raise $275 Toward Inhalator

LAKE COWICHAN—Volunteer fire department of Lake Cowichan cleared $275 at a successful dance held in the community hall to aid in the purchase of an inhalator to serve the Lake, Honeymoon Bay and Mesachie Lake.

It is hoped to have Joe Malbon take charge of the ambulance as he has had seven years' experience as first-aid man.

over an area of 35,000,000 acres.

Here, say experts of the U.S. department of agriculture, the infestation is just as bad as it was in the late 30s when a grasshopper plague cost farmers in the northern plains states $250,000,000 in crop damage.

27 City Streets Listed For Improvement Work This Year

Twenty-seven of the city's streets are slated for major improvement work this year, Ald. J. D. Hunter reported today.

Chairman of City Council's public works committee, Ald. Hunter said work had been started on many of the streets listed, but the program would keep the engineering department's road crews busy all year.

Weather might hamper progress in some instances but the major portion of paving work would be completed during the summer.

Ald. Hunter said that when the program has been carried out the city's streets generally should be in better condition than they have been for many years.

The complete list of streets included in the improvement program, follows:

Esquimalt Road, from Point

Ellice Bridge to Alston; Oak Bay Avenue, Foul Bay to Fort; Richmond Avenue, Fort to Bay; May Street, Moss to Memorial; Pembroke Street, Douglas to Blanshard; Chatham Street, Douglas to Blanshard;

Discovery Street, Douglas to Blanshard; Fairfield Road, Rupert to Vancouver; Caledonia Avenue, Cook to Blanshard; Cook Street, Pandora to Fort; Mont-real Street, Belleville to Dallas; Oswego Street, Belleville to Dallas; Belleville Street, Montreal to Oswego; Fairfield Road, city limits to Foul Bay Road; Richardson Street, Moss to St. Charles; Catherine Street, Henry to Esquimalt; John Street, Government to Pleasant; Pembroke Street, Government to Douglas; Chatham Street, Government to Douglas; Discovery Street, Government to Douglas; Yates Street, Blanshard to Douglas; Memorial Crescent, Dallas to Fairfield; Pleasant Street, Bay to north end; Irma Street, Lotus to Gorge; Tolmie Avenue, Douglas to Quadra; Quamichan Avenue, Foul Bay to Richmond, and Belton Avenue.

Tenders Received For Kingsway Lighting

C. H. E. Williams Co. Ltd., Vancouver, Wednesday submitted the lowest tender to the provincial works department for the providing of street lighting for the new Kingsway highway in Vancouver. The firm bid to make the installation for $109,890.

Other bids were submitted as follows: Ricketts-Sewell Electric Ltd., $111,800; J. H. McRae & Co. Ltd., $113,675; Industrial Electricians Ltd., $114,905, and Hume & Rumble Ltd., $118,975.

Salt Spring High Honors Graduates

GANGES—To honor the graduating class of the Salt Spring Island high school a dance was held in Mahon Hall with supper served by members of grade 10. Decorations for supper tables were in charge of Miss Diane Beech, grades nine and 10 were responsible for hall decorations. Three teachers, Miss R. Dulton, Miss O. Mout and J. B. Foubister attended. A prize waltz was won by Pat Dawson and Tommy Reid; spot dance by Marjory Childerstone and Roy Aylwin, and statue dance by Pat Dawson and Tommy Reid. On behalf of her class Gladys Mout made a valedictory speech, and Tommy Gale, president of the student's council, spoke briefly.

Seven Salt Spring Scouts To Make Trip

GANGES—Archdeacon G. H. Holmes will be in charge of scouts from Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands, who are traveling to Ottawa to attend the Dominion Jamboree, it was announced at a meeting of the boy scouts' group committee. E. Walters, assistant scoutmaster, will aid Archdeacon Holmes. Seven scouts will be sent from Salt Spring Island. They are: Patrick Crofton, Bruce Gardiner, Alan Wilson, Jerry Snow, Michael Bolger, Robert Aitkens and Roy Aylwin. To help raise funds for the trip a garden party will be held at Harbor House July 6. Tea will be served. Clock golf and other games will be played and Capt. V. C. Best will run a tennis tournament.

Phillies Sweep Pair As Tonic For Waitkus

"Win For Waitkus" has become the new battle cry for the "Fightin' Phillies" of Philadelphia.

Shocked by the shooting of Eddie Waitkus, the star Philly first-baseman, his teammates were determined today to aid the stricken athlete in a way he would appreciate most. Waitkus was shot and seriously wounded by a girl fan in a hotel room early Wednesday.

The Phillies wasted no time in carrying out their promise. They went out and swept a double-header yesterday from the Chicago Cubs 4 to 1 and 3 to 0 to move into a virtual tie with Boston for third place in the tight National League race.

The twin triumph gave the Phils a four-game winning streak and a record of 10 victories in their last 13 games. The Phils now trail the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers by only three games.

Ken Heintzelman won his seventh game in the opener and Borowy notched his sixth in the nightcap. Borowy, however, needed help in the ninth, and got it from Robin Roberts.

SISLER STARS

Dick Sisler, subbing for Waitkus, collected three of the eight hits off loser Bob Rush and Emil Kish in the opener.

Brooklyn's eight-game winning streak came to an end last night when St. Louis Cardinals whipped them 9 to 5 to cut their first-place margin over the Redbirds to two games. First baseman Nippy Jones smashed a home run, two singles and a double to bat in six runs and almost beat Brooklyn single-handedly.

A crowd of 32,131—largest of the year at Sportsman's Park—saw Gerry Staley come to the aid of faltering Al Brazie in the fifth and pitch shutout ball the rest of the way to earn his fourth victory.

Pittsburgh's Pirates duplicated Tuesday's feat by coming from behind with a four-run rally in the last of the ninth to nip the Boston Braves 8 to 7.

Dino Restelli, who joined the Pirates Tuesday night from San Francisco of the Coast League, hammered two homers and a single.

The American League-leading New York Yankees opened up a four-game lead over Detroit, whipping Chicago White Sox 9 to 4 while the Tigers were losing a 2 to 1 game to Philadelphia.

Cleveland shoved Boston Red Sox deeper into a rut, drubbing the Sox 8 to 5 and Washington stayed in fifth place shutting out the St. Louis Browns 9 to 0.

Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown paced a 12-hit Yankee attack against Randy Gumpert and Alen Gettel with home runs. Yogi's came with two on and a featured four-run fifth which sewed up the game.

Rookie Ray Boone, who has replaced manager Lou Boudreau at shortstop, clouted his first two major league home runs to lead the Indians to their second straight victory over the Red Sox.

Eddie Joost's 14th home run won for the A's. The blow came off Ted Gray in the fifth. Dick Fowler scattered six hits for his fifth win, his fourth in a row. Vic Wertz homered for the lone Tigers run.

Rae Scarborough allowed only two hits in shutting out the Browns. The Nats collected 15 hits off Bill Kennedy and Karl Drews.

Skidding Timbermen Drop Into Third Spot

The slipping Timber Service softball nine who less than a few weeks ago were challenging Douglas Tire for the No. 1 rating in the senior league, today found themselves in third place following last night's 9 to 6 loss to the cellar occupants, Bluebird Cabs.

Coach Ivan Temple's Hudson's Bay Beavers last night outhit the Phoenix Ramblers, U.S. National champions, but again came out on the short end of the score losing, 3 to 2, when the American nine pushed across the winning run in the last of the sixth inning.

Beavers took a 1-to-0 lead in the top of the second and go ahead in the bottom half of the stanza with a brace of runs. Mary Cruell hit a home run with the bases empty in the fifth to knot the score at 2 to 2.

The island squad garnered seven hits, from the slants of two Phoenix hurlers while Korona and Copp were allowing but five blows for the Ramblers.

Although the rest of the team played heads-up ball, it was really the mound work of their ace right-hander, Bill Prior, that stemmed the Gasmen in their quest to make the pennant race a runaway. Prior was masterful in tossing a three-hitter and the only batter he had any trouble with was catcher Del Bertrand, who garnered all three hits, one of which was a double. Prior took a total of 13 on strikes and issued four walks.

Kasim Sapala started for the Gasmen and got along nicely for the first two frames, but went out under fire in the third, giving up five runs. Pitzer and Nex got one back in the last of the fourth on a walk, stolen base and Bertrand's two-bagger, but winners got to relief hurler Cliff Hume for another five tallies in the fifth—on three hits, four walks, an error and two fielder's choices.

An error, walk, sacrifice and Prior's double gave Eagles a 12 to 1 lead in the sixth and they added singletons in each of the seventh and eighth before losers closed out the run-making with a brace in the last of the eighth.

Short score follows:
R. H. E.
Eagles 14 10 1
Pitzer and Nex 3 3 5
Prior and Carson; Sapala, Hume (3), McLellan (8) and Bertrand.

A base-clearing double by catcher Bud Sheely gave Vancouver three runs in the ninth and a 4 to 1 triumph over Salem Senators.

The Caps only managed four hits but Salem chipped in with three errors to help Caps' Jim Hedgecock even the current series at one game apiece. Jim Foster was the loser.

Down at Wenatchee big John Marshall of the Bremerton Blue-jackets chalked up his 12th victory of the season although hit freely by the Chiefs.

The Tars scored nine runs on nine hits in the ninth inning to grab the verdict 15 to 8. Umpire Jerry Mathieu got in hot water again and it was after a call giving Bill Taylor a home run on a ball that hit the rightfield fence that Bremerton followed with eight straight hits to cinch the decision.

Short scores follow:
R. H. E.
Vancouver 4 4 0
Salem 3 10 3

Basement Battle Holds Spotlight In Coast Baseball

The battle for the basement takes the Coast League spotlight today.

The Los Angeles Angels stepped out of the cellar—momentarily at least—by overwhelming the Portland Beavers last night 8 to 3.

Branch Rickey, Brooklyn Dodger boss, saw his affiliate club, the hoop-leading Hollywood stars, shellack Sacramento 10 to 4.

Second place Seattle kept pace with Hollywood by setting back San Francisco 6 to 4, to remain 5½ games in arrears. Jackie Albright homered for the winners in the fourth. Four singles and a walk in the fifth gave the Rainiers three runs—more than enough to win.

The San Diego Padres shaded Oakland 3 to 2 on Harvey Storey's two-run triple in the seventh.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates apparently are running a "clearing house" for ball players.

Seventh in the National League and appreciative of tremendous fans support at the game, Pirate officials have been leaving no stone unturned to improve the ball club. It all adds up to some zany goings on.

Ball players have been arriving and leaving like scheduled trains.

It started with the Pirates trading Johnny Hopp to Brooklyn for Marvin Rakley.

The Brooklyn fugitive complained of a sore arm after reporting to the Bucs. So, after Hopp moved his family to Brooklyn and found living quarters, Pirate officials decided to send Rakley back to Brooklyn and reclaimed Hopp and a bundle of cash they had given Dodger President Branch Rickey.

Then, Pittsburgh acquired infielder Bobby Rhawn and pitcher Ray Poat from the New York Giants. Rhawn played a couple of games and yesterday was shipped via the waivers to the Chicago White Sox of the American League. He didn't even have time to get his first week's shirt back from the laundry.

QUICK TURNOVER
The quickest shuffle of all involved outfielder Ed Sauer. Pittsburgh purchased Sauer yesterday from St. Louis Cardinals. Before the husky fly-chaser ever reached Pittsburgh he was dealt off to the Boston Braves for catcher Phil Masi.

The myriad of transactions has prompted a new gag in Pittsburgh. A man with a suitcase in a Pittsburgh railroad station no longer is a traveling salesman. He must be a Pirate—going or coming.

Champ Ray Robinson
Draws Suspension

BOSTON (UP)—World welterweight boxing champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson of New York and his manager George Gainsford were suspended indefinitely by the Massachusetts State Boxing Commission today in co-operation with the Texas commission.

The announcement sent Robinson and Gainsford were set down for "failure to fulfill contract." No other details were given.

Slides To Break Up Double Play
Third baseman Grady Hatton slides into second, but not in time, as Jack Lohrke makes the putout on Frank Baumholtz's grounder to Sid Gordon in first inning at the Polo Grounds. The New York Giants' second baseman's off-balance throw to first came too late for the double play. Umpire Frank Dascoli calls the play in game won by Cincinnati 4 to 3.

Eagles Gain Third Position Tie By Touncing Gasmen

Eagles, who are beginning the long climb from the Senior Baseball League cellar, moved up a notch last night by racking up their third straight victory, an easy 14 to 3 decision over the league-leading Pitzer and Nex squad to gain a third-place tie with the Navy squad.

Although the rest of the team played heads-up ball, it was really the mound work of their ace right-hander, Bill Prior, that stemmed the Gasmen in their quest to make the pennant race a runaway. Prior was masterful in tossing a three-hitter and the only batter he had any trouble with was catcher Del Bertrand, who garnered all three hits, one of which was a double. Prior took a total of 13 on strikes and issued four walks.

Kasim Sapala started for the Gasmen and got along nicely for the first two frames, but went out under fire in the third, giving up five runs. Pitzer and Nex got one back in the last of the fourth on a walk, stolen base and Bertrand's two-bagger, but winners got to relief hurler Cliff Hume for another five tallies in the fifth—on three hits, four walks, an error and two fielder's choices.

An error, walk, sacrifice and Prior's double gave Eagles a 12 to 1 lead in the sixth and they added singletons in each of the seventh and eighth before losers closed out the run-making with a brace in the last of the eighth.

Short score follows:
R. H. E.
Eagles 14 10 1
Pitzer and Nex 3 3 5
Prior and Carson; Sapala, Hume (3), McLellan (8) and Bertrand.

A base-clearing double by catcher Bud Sheely gave Vancouver three runs in the ninth and a 4 to 1 triumph over Salem Senators.

The Caps only managed four hits but Salem chipped in with three errors to help Caps' Jim Hedgecock even the current series at one game apiece. Jim Foster was the loser.

Down at Wenatchee big John Marshall of the Bremerton Blue-jackets chalked up his 12th victory of the season although hit freely by the Chiefs.

The Tars scored nine runs on nine hits in the ninth inning to grab the verdict 15 to 8. Umpire Jerry Mathieu got in hot water again and it was after a call giving Bill Taylor a home run on a ball that hit the rightfield fence that Bremerton followed with eight straight hits to cinch the decision.

Short scores follow:
R. H. E.
Vancouver 4 4 0
Salem 3 10 3
Hedgecock and Sheely; Foster; Osborn (1) and Beard.
Bremerton 15 8 5

Second Choice Alycidon Wins Ascot Gold Cup

ASCOT, Berkshire, Eng. (AP) — Lord Derby's Alycidon, today won the 2½-mile Ascot Gold Cup race, defeating the American-bred favorite, Black Tarquin, from the English stables of William Woodward.

Alycidon scored by five lengths over Black Tarquin, winner of the St. Leger Stakes last fall. Heron Bridge, an Irish entry, finished third, 10 lengths behind Black Tarquin. The Irish horse started at 25 to 1.

Alycidon started as second choice at 5 to 4. Black Tarquin was the favorite at 11 to 10.

The race was worth £10,540 ($42,160) and to the winner also went a £500 gold cup.

DETROIT (AP)—Jay (Nig) Clark, 64, former major league baseball player, was found dead Wednesday night at his home in suburban River Rouge.

Police said he apparently died of a heart attack.

Pro Pats Score Victory In First Junior Boxla Tilt

Junior box lacrosse made its return to Victoria last night, and, though players were lacking in the polish which comes when young athletes have been playing a sport throughout their teens, it seems certain that boxla will enjoy a needed expansion within the next year or two. Pro Patria beat Selkirk Jokers 9 to 6.

With Jokers' goalkeeper, Wayne Henderson, having a little trouble getting settled between the pipes to begin with, plus poor checking by his defence, the green-and-red shirted Pro Patria squad built up a 4 to 0 lead in the first quarter.

ONE APIECE

In the second quarter teams scored one apiece. Meanwhile, Jokers organized their attack and only failed to narrow the gap by some nice saves by Ray Carter in the winners' net. Half time score read 5 to 1.

Pro Patria players, showing a little better finish around the goal, went on a small spree again in the third frame, building up a 9 to 1 lead before Alan Husband scored Jokers' second marker, leaving the score at 9 to 2 at the three-quarter pole. In the fourth canto, losers hammered away at the Pro Patria defence, and scored four goals without a reply. Husband, playing a fast-breaking game from his centre position, added three more markers to gain scoring honors for the night with four goals. Gerry Stark notched the final goal of the night for losers.

Their other goal was credited to Chick Geisser. Bud Leonard and Evan Oakley led the winners with a brace apiece.

PEEWEE, SENIORS TONIGHT

Tonight, the PeeWees, youngsters 12 and under, will make their first organized appearance of the season. Fans who have seen the stars of the future racing around the Stevenson Park enclosure at half time of senior games will be treated to a bang-up game at 5:45 this evening, prior to the Jokers-Tillums senior tilt at 6:30.

Junior line-ups:

Pro Patria—Carter; Leonard 2, Ritchie 1, Douglas 1, Stinson 1, L. Oakley 1, E. Oakley 2, McLean 1, Merriman, Jewell, Bamford, Stewart, Jones, Kowalyk. Total, 9.

Selkirk Jokers — Henderson; Hardy, Smyth, Salmon, Corry, Stark 1, Geisser 1, Husband 4, B. Hudson, W. Hudson, Day, Hoyt, Wells. Total, 6.

Cerdan-LaMotta Set For Second Weigh-In

DETROIT (AP)—To avoid the threat of an international boxing incident, both middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan of French Morocco and challenger Jake La Motta of New York will weigh in again today for tonight's once-postponed title bout at Briggs Stadium.

Long after the Michigan State Boxing Commission first ruled that no new weigh-in was necessary, the two managers got together and agreed to let their boys step on the scales a second time.

Joe Longman, the excitable Parisian who manages Cerdan, talked about an "international incident" and the "danger of losing the title to a light-heavyweight" when it appeared that Jake and Marcel would not have to weigh in after the postponement.

La Motta hit 159½ yesterday noon and it was agreed he would have trouble getting under the 160-pound class limit again today. For that matter, Cerdan, too, will have difficulty although he got in comfortably at 158 yesterday. Both are well, thinking no second weigh-in would be necessary.

MUCH CONFUSION

The happenings of the evening were vague, veiled in confusion and counter-confusion.

At Silvani, one of La Motta's handlers, said, Jake became alarmed when he heard the Frenchman talking about losing the title to a light-heavy. He recently was involved in another international furor when he was given a widely-disputed nod over Frenchman Robert Villemain.

"If that's what they want, okay I'll weigh again," Silvani quoted La Motta.

What little betting action remains on the fight after the strange stilling of the last 24 hours still made Cerdan the favorite. The 5-to-8 price, however, might melt as much as two points by ring-time for the 15-round battle.

The gate is expected to hit $200,000 and 18,000 fans. The postponement might boost it.

More Prizes For Sunday Fish Derby

Les Dicks, chairman of the derby committee arranging for the initial 1949 salmon competition for Saanich-Inlet Anglers' Association members, in the inlet Sunday, today reported additional prizes to the attractive list.

He said that the 10th fishing prize will be a tackle box and the 11th 600 feet of wire line.

In addition to the main consolation prize of a Bendix washing machine, Dicks said that the second award in this category is a cabin rent-free at Morgan's Auto Camp at Cowichan Bay for either the last week in June or the first week in July.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—A gentleman who should know about such things maintains that the recalls of Wes Westrum by New York Giants and Charley Keller by New York Yankees were at least premature. "Keller wouldn't have been a regular with Newark if he wasn't Keller," the gent says. "He was improving, but he needed at least two weeks more there before he could hit with his old power." Westrum should have been left in Jersey City, where he was working every day, for the full season. Then he'd be a finished catcher. He didn't hit and he didn't stay in condition in New York last year and he might slip into the same thing again.

TONGUE TWISTER

Dave Rowe, Pioneer Baseball League publicity man, wasn't certain whether he was hearing about a baseball game or a ski meet when manager Walt Lowe of Pocatello, Idaho, Cardinals was sidelined and outfielder Dick Czaplewski replaced him at first. The Pocatello infield also included Ted Lewandowski at short and Dominic Varczewski at second. With all those skis, the radio announcers were kept jumping.

THURSDAY SPECIAL

In a story about the Missouri-Notre Dame track meet, a Notre Dame school magazine used a picture of Randy Yanel, Missouri cinder-path speedster, captioned: "Missouri Spinster." Maybe it was a natural mistake to think a spinster would be running against the Notre Dames.

NEW YORK—Pete Kennedy, 147, White Plains, N.Y., knocked out Tony Viserto, 142, New York, 5.

Newcastle Plays For Keeps To Blank Swedish Footballers

TORONTO (CP) — Newcastle United, first division club of the English Football League, defeated Sweden 4 to 0 here Wednesday night in one of the best games ever seen in Canada.

A crowd of 24,300—largest in history of the sport in the Dominion—witnessed the match at the spacious Canadian National Exhibition sports field.

It was a hard-fought battle throughout the 90 minutes with the English club keeping up a sustained attack that kept the huge crowd in an almost continuous roar.

Newcastle, playing as if in a cup final, went after the Swedes from the opening whistle and overpowered the opposition with a hard-driving play-for-keeps offense.

Jackie Milburn, brilliant Newcastle centre-forward, led the attack with three goals—one in the first 45 minutes and a pair in the second. Bobby Mitchell, outside left, got the other in the first half.

Scot Prefers Victoria

When Glasgow man, Alastair Lyle, served with the R.A.F. for two and a half years at Pat Bay during the war, he formed two attachments. One is now his wife and the other is his love of Victoria.

"After living in Glasgow weather, can you blame me?" says Lyle, who is now in charge of the ties, socks and sweater department in the Government Street store of W. & J. Wilson.

When in Britain Lyle worked with well-known outfitters in Glasgow and London, and every now and again he comes across one of his old trans-Atlantic customers.

He has been in Victoria with the W. & J. Wilson firm for two years.

THE REAL TRUTH ABOUT PILES

Here is a Revealingly Candid and Honest Discussion on a Delicate Subject

FOREWORD: This is a frank attempt to give you in non-technical language certain information regarding a widespread and personally annoying physical condition. A condition which not only afflicts countless thousands, but makes these thousands suffer untold discomfort, pain and embarrassment. Far too often this condition—at first superficial in itself—can be Nature's warning of more serious trouble to come. We believe every man or woman who suffers from this condition owes it to their own personal comfort to read the statement below.

Leonhardt Proprietaries, Ltd.

Since the dawn of civilization, medical men have carried on a ceaseless war. Not only to save human lives, but to relieve—or better still, prevent some of the physical afflictions of humanity and the incalculable human misery they cause.

Thus, when a famous physician or a noted scientist makes an important therapeutic discovery—or perfects a new surgical technique—the news rings round the world. Yet, even while these front-page discoveries are taking place, some of the most widespread human miseries—"hay fever"—"the common cold"—"athlete's foot"—certain digestive disorders—are undergoing no scientific study and laboratory scrutiny by men the public never hears of... simply because these "everyday" maladies do not seem serious.

Among these seemingly commonplace afflictions are "piles." Those who suffer from this amazingly widespread trouble are burdened with a double hardship. They yearn for relief, but hesitate to seek it—merely because of "false pride," the sheer embarrassment of seeking advice or treatment often makes it preferable to suffer in silence. There is no "drama" about piles. No glamour—no glory—no front-page fame for the man who finds a way to help pile sufferers. The subject itself is mostly taboo... it is seldom, if ever openly discussed. But no man or woman who has known, or now knows, the agonizing, embarrassing torment of itching, burning piles—the loss in business efficiency, in social pleasure, in good looks and vitality and sheer enjoyment of life—will deny that a safe and efficient method for relieving this condition, could well be a far-reaching contribution to human health and comfort.

WHAT ARE PILES?

Piles, as such, are not a primary ailment but result from some condition preceding or associated with them. The contributing cause that causes piles never originates in the parts affected. In their early stages, piles are inflamed, distended rectal veins—actually, "varicose veins" in the delicate membranes of the rectum. One of their primary causes—surprisingly often, in fact—is hepatic congestion or torpidity of the liver which results in the lower bowel is retarded and dozens of small rectal veins become swollen and distended with blood.

1. When the liver is unduly congested and its normal function is slowed by sluggishness the flow of blood to the liver from the lower bowel is retarded and dozens of small rectal veins become swollen and distended with blood.
2. This sluggish, congested liver action usually causes constipation.
3. With the start of constipation, hard clogging masses form in the lower bowel and colon.
4. These hard masses press upon and irritate or bruise the sensitive, distended rectal veins.
5. Blood thickens and stagnates in the bruised area. The tiny veins become greatly inflamed, over-sensitive, lumpy and thus excruciatingly painful.
6. The pain from these blood swollen veins, plus aggravation of the constipation itself, is "self-perpetuating." The condition increases the itching, burning pain and soreness, which in turn further increases the constipation—which in turn tends to further enlarge and irritate the swollen veins which then become pile tumors. It is a vicious circle.

This is why, from the very onset, piles are sheer torment—as their victims know all too well.

But the agony and embarrassment of piles are only the beginning—really Nature's first call for help. If help does not come in time, if the vicious circle is not broken, there eventually may be only one answer—chronic piles or the surgeon's knife. A big price to pay for lack of knowledge!

Yet, today in many cases, radical action may not be the only answer. More than half a century ago an able and qualified professional man began an intensive study on the whole subject of piles—their cause and effect. He found a means by which this vicious circle may be broken. This man compounded and tried, in his own practice, many different combinations of ingredients. He finally devised a formula of medically proven elements which showed amazing results in 86 out of 100 consecutive cases that came to his personal and professional attention. Proving that piles come from congested conditions inside the body—never from an outside cause—his final formula was an internal remedy, small tablets taken by mouth.

Since piles are not (as many believe) merely "strained muscles" neither the relief of the pain, nor treatment of the constipated condition is enough. A careful analysis of the many cases treated indicated internal medication was not only required but mandatory—medication that actually relieves hepatic congestion, stimulates the liver and bile, gently relieves constipation and works to improve the circulation of blood in the lower bowel. To have an effective remedy you must relieve the internal congestion which is the primary cause of piles. So decided this man.

He gave his final formula the trade name of Hem-Roid and began to use it, not only in his own practice, but also to furnish Hem-Roid to his friends and acquaintances. Several years later, in 1904 to be exact, he sold the formula and name. Hem-Roid was then offered to the general public.

The remarkable results through the use of Hem-Roid are a matter of record extending over the last 50 years. Millions of packages have been sold in various countries throughout the world. Hundreds of users have testified to its quick and efficient action.

SPECIAL NOTE: The makers of Hem-Roid sincerely believe that pile sufferers everywhere will welcome this information. Of course some persons, in very old, long standing, neglected cases should consult a physician. But for the average pile conditions, those that have not been long neglected and greatly aggravated by such neglect, we know nothing better than Hem-Roid to give you the action and results you desire.

ACCEPT THIS SPECIAL OFFER NOW

We want Hem-Roid to prove itself to you in your own case. We also want to protect you against money loss if you are not satisfied, so we make this generous offer. Secure from any drug store a package of Hem-Roid, 60 tablets, 20 full days treatment, at the amazingly low cost of $1.25. Use the tablets exactly as directed for 10 days. If, at the end of that time you are not delighted with the results you get, return the unused portion of the package to the druggist and your full purchase price will be refunded without question—you are the sole judge. So you risk nothing—not even the small cost of Hem-Roid, (a few pennies a day.) If you are not completely satisfied. And you do stand to gain quick and immeasurable relief from the pain, discomfort and embarrassment you have endured. So why suffer? Why risk costly and perhaps more radical methods when inexpensive Hem-Roid may give you quickly, easily and pleasantly just the help and benefit you seek?

MANUFACTURER'S NOTE: There has been no increase in the retail price of Hem-Roid. The druggists' retail price is exactly the same now as it was 50 years ago—a remarkable value then, a more remarkable value today—$1.25 per package of 60 tablets, 20 full days treatment. And it is rare indeed that more than 10 days use are needed to prove its value.

Trades And Labor Council Protests Rental Increase

The Victoria Trades and Labor Council will send a protest to the City Council over the 15 per cent increase in rents on city-owned property, and will appoint a delegation to meet representatives of the City Council to further the protest.

This was decided at a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council in the Labor Hall Wednesday night.

The protest has been drawn up as a result of "the appalling conditions under which some tenants are living in Victoria, particularly in some converted army camps, where living conditions are extremely poor."

In addition the delegation to be appointed will ask aldermen "why there has been such a lengthy delay in the action on the repeated request for a business property reassessment."

CONSIDERATION PROMISED
At the meeting, several letters were read from various Ottawa authorities promising full consideration of the council's protests over replacement of R.C.M.P. guards at H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt, by members of the Corps of Commissioners rather than civil service guards.

The Victoria Hospital Employees' Federal Union's request for affiliation with the council was accepted. The union will be seated at the next meeting.

A copy of a resolution from the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, urging all trades and labor councils in Canada to protest to the Trades and Labor Congress the suspension of the Canadian Seamen's Union met with considerable debate and was finally ordered received and filed.

HEALTH TESTS
Mrs. Margaret Burgoyne reported to the meeting that progress was being made in the matter of having restaurant workers and others who handle food for public consumption take a periodical health test.

She said that if such a plan were instituted it would be on a voluntary basis, but she expressed optimism that the plan would be good for both employees and employers, and as a much-needed public safeguard.

Inquest Tomorrow On Saanich Death

An inquest will be held Friday morning at 10 at McCall Bros. Funeral Parlors into the circumstances surrounding the Tuesday night death of Leslie G. Hatfield, Welch Road, Saanich.

Hatfield was crushed to death between the box and frame of a gravel truck at his home while in the process of unloading the vehicle.

Two-Day Convention Of B.C. Masons Being Held At Empress

The most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of British Columbia today opened its 78th annual communication at the Empress Hotel with 350 delegates from all over the province present.

The closed sessions will continue through till Friday afternoon.

Attending as visiting delegates are several Masons from Pacific northwest states, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Grand Master George H. Ellis, Kamloops, is presiding over the convention.

At noon, today, delegates attended a luncheon at the Crystal Garden and a sightseeing drive around the city was arranged for visiting ladies this afternoon.

Election of officers for the coming year was held this afternoon, with installation ceremonies to be held Friday morning.

Beach Fires On Illegal List

Fire Chief R. T. Brindle has asked city police for co-operation in stopping beach fires during the summer months. No permits, he said, are being issued for this type of fire.

The chief pointed out that much fire department equipment is being tied up from time to time to attend to beach fires which have been left by careless people.

In addition, the chief said many people burning rubbish at the present time were breaking the law as they had no permits. A permit must be secured from the fire chief's office before these rubbish fires are legal, he said.

Finnish Paintings On View Saturday

Miss Margaret Clay will officiate at the opening of the exhibition of paintings by Helene Schjerfbeck at the gallery, 823 Broughton Street, Saturday evening at 8.

The public is invited to view this unusual show of canvases and lithographs from Finland. The exhibition will be open Friday and Saturday this week and Tuesday to Saturday next week from 11 to 5:30 and Saturday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30.

As the paintings were late in leaving the gallery at Calgary it was impossible to open on June 14 as planned.

Brothers Mixed

L. H. Rands, 1966 Crescent Road, did not sign the nomination papers of Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative candidate in the forthcoming election, as was announced earlier this week.

It was, instead, his brother, S. A. Rands, 1839 Crescent Road, who endorsed Mr. Cameron's nomination.

Strawberries Lower

Strawberries were selling in some city stores today at two boxes for 37 cents. Dealers said it was doubtful that they would go any lower.

Local green peas were on sale today at 25 cents a pound. Prices will drop as the season progresses.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRING

The R.C.S.A. (C.A.A.) will carry out a heavy anti-aircraft firing practice from Parksville Friday, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

The danger area will be the water area for 13,000 yards in an arc between Bellinas Island on the right and Sisters Island on the left.

Girl Who Wounded Ball Star Ordered Under Examination

CHICAGO (AP)—The 19-year-old girl admirer who shot first baseman Eddie Waitkus today broke down and wept on going to felony court, where she was ordered examined by a psychiatrist.

She was arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Waitkus now is given a good chance to recover.

Tears rolled down the cheeks of dark-haired Ruth Steinhagen as she talked with reporters in an ante-room before she faced the judge.

"For the first time I'm beginning to realize what I've done," said the girl, who shot and severely wounded the popular Philadelphia Phillies star in her hotel room early Wednesday.

"Up until now it had been more or less of a dream," she added.

Waitkus, 28, shot near the heart with a .22-calibre rifle bullet, was reported "a bit improved" today in hospital and has a good chance to recover.

Judge Matthew D. Hartigan ordered her examined. Meanwhile, he continued the court hearing until June 30, pending results of the examination of the girl, who told police Wednesday she is "a fit subject for a psychiatrist."

Her bond was set at $25,000. She had said she held a secret love for Waitkus although she didn't know him.

Sir William Bailey, U.K. Publisher, Dies

Hearing Of Chinese On Pistol Charges Nears Completion

Chow Fook Cheong and George Gee, young Vancouver Chinese, were remanded to tomorrow for further evidence after the bulk of Crown testimony had been heard in city police court today in their preliminary hearing on two joint charges.

They are charged with being in possession of an unregistered pistol and without a permit, having a concealable weapon in a car of which they were the occupants.

James Proudfoot is counsel for Gee and W. A. Brethour for Cheong.

Evidence was that Detectives Angus Munro and Louis Callan were detailed to watch this pair in Chinatown on the night of June 4.

Detectives Callan and Munro said they accosted the two accused in a car and at the police station searched them and the car.

In an open space under the front cushion, Det. Callan said he found a pistol and ammunition wrapped in a cloth.

Both accused denied having any knowledge of the weapon and stated it was not theirs, witness said.

Under cross-examination by defence counsels, it was learned the car was a U-drive vehicle from Vancouver rented to Cheong on June 2.

Mr. Brethour got an admission from Det. Munro that it was a natural thing when renting a U-drive car not to make a search before using it.

Evidence presented was that the gun was unregistered. B.C. Police officer Frank Grimshaw said it was one of the guns stolen from New Westminster Armoury last September. Det. Callan said there were no fingerprints on the pistol.

Plans Complete For Optimist Hobby Show
Members of the Victoria Optimist Club now have plans complete for the staging of their first annual hobby show in the Bay Street Armories. The show will be open Friday and Saturday.

As well as many unusual exhibits entered by individual hobbyists in all parts of the province, the show will feature outstanding displays by many local hobby groups.

The Victoria Model Railroad Club, for example, has prepared a complete miniature railway layout. It is complete with trains, villages, roads and scenery and is built to scale.

The Victoria Model Airplane Club will have 25 models exhibited which have been constructed by club members.

A tank of brightly-colored tropical fish will be another big feature of the show. The fish were shipped here in a specially-heated railroad car.

Proceeds from the show will be used by the Optimists to provide recreational facilities for youth of the city.

Combining juvenile delinquency by providing constructive interests is the Optimists' chief business.

Beethoven Club In Pleasing Concert

From the lilting strains of "Tales From the Vienna Woods," to the nostalgic Foster tune, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," the varied program presented by the Beethoven Club, assisted by advanced students of Prof. J. E. Hoffman, pleased an audience in First Baptist Church Wednesday night.

A highlight of the evening was the singing of Miss Kathleen Paulin, contralto soprano, who was heard in the solo parts of the Vienna Woods number by Strauss in an arrangement for chorus and solo by Prof. Hoffman.

Revealing a good range and promise in the selection "Elsa's Dream" from "Lohengrin" was Miss Fay Robinson. Miss Rita Price displayed quality of tone and ease in her singing of "Ah, l'enfer lui est un paradis," from Verdi's "La Traviata."

Miss Beverly Hill, alto and William Sawyer, baritone, gave J. A. Brand's setting of Foster's "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

Other vocalists contributing to the program were: W. J. Falconer, Miss Donna Verquin, Miss Dorcas Kohut, Mrs. A. A. Fanthorpe, Mrs. D. Sterling, and George Farmer. Pianists were: Master Albert Burkhardt, Miss Betty Engel and Miss Velma Neeldman. Mrs. E. Temple was accompanist.

Prof. Hoffman was presented with a gift from his students at the conclusion of the program.

Fast C.P.R. Trips Start Friday; Three Trips A Day To Vancouver

The Canadian Pacific's B.C. Coast Service's stepped-up summer schedules will go into effect Friday with three sailings a day each way between Victoria and Vancouver and a shortening of the running time on the daytime tri-city route as the former triangle run is now called.

It will only take four hours 15 minutes between this city and Vancouver on the new Princess Patricia and Princess Marguerite on the day run, and the same ships will make the Victoria-Seattle trip in four hours even and three hours 50 minutes on the return run.

The auto ferry Motor Princess left here this morning after being tied up in the inner harbor throughout the winter and will commence two trips a day between Sidney and Steveston Friday. She will do these trips Tuesday through Saturday, inclusive, and will take a trip to Vancouver via the Gulf Islands on Sunday only, returning over the same route Monday only.

Further increases in ship connections between Vancouver and Seattle trip in four hours even and three hours 50 minutes on the return run.

Man Suffered Four-Inch Wound
Trial of Frank Forde, 50, Government Street, charged on June 5 with assaulting John White, crew member of Ss. Princess Patricia, and occasioning him grievous bodily harm, opened today in city police court.

After hearing a prosecution witness, Dr. A. H. Gillespie, Jubilee Hospital interne, the case was remanded to June 24 for completion. Forde pleaded innocent to the charge.

W. A. Brethour is counsel for the accused.

Dr. Gillespie said when he treated White at the hospital at 10 on the night in question, he was suffering from a four-inch wound on the inside of the right forearm. The instrument used, he said, penetrated right through the arm. The doctor said White in his opinion was intoxicated at the time.

In reply to a question from C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, Dr. Gillespie said such a wound could have been inflicted by a knife.

The St. Andrews and Caledonian Society will meet tonight at 8 in the K. of P. Hall, Cormorant Street. A strawberry social will follow.

Light Showers

Expected On Prairies; Downpour Needed

WINNIPEG (CP)—Although light showers are expected to hit the prairies today, farmers still need a heavy downfall of rain to help their crops.

Meteorological officials today said no appreciable falls of rain are expected although in Southern Saskatchewan showers should be more frequent than Wednesday.

A prairie moisture survey showed a slight decrease during the week ended Monday, with total moisture estimated at 67 per cent of normal compared with 69 per cent for the previous week.

Provincial rainfall figures for each province from April 1 were as follows: Manitoba, 85; Saskatchewan, 60; and Alberta, 48.

Million Dollar Vancouver Fire

Vancouver City accepts no responsibility for the $1,000,000 blaze whose flames are pictured above in the process of destroying nearly three blocks of industrial plants in the False Creek area. Corporation Counsel A. E. Lord Wednesday answered charges by owners of the gutted factories that the city had been negligent in enforcing by-laws covering control of sparks from mill smokestacks. Mr. Lord said there was no obligation on the part of the city to enforce its by-laws.

8,000 Power Station Workers In London Threaten Strike

LONDON (Reuter)—More than 8,000 London electric power station workers have threatened to strike because they claim their wages are to be cut.

Their stoppage would thrust London into darkness, and prolong the wave of labor unrest in Britain. The power workers say they will lose pay under a new agreement reached with the British Electricity Authority, which controls the country's nationalized power industry.

Frank Foulkes, general president of the Electrical Trades Union, warned the men today he could not support strike action, which he said was based on ignorance of the agreement.

He told members of the union that any anomalies arising out of the agreement must be dealt with through the machinery already in operation, before consideration is given to any other action.

Railwaymen in the north-eastern district have staged 24-hour strikes the last four Sundays over grievances which include new schedules under which they must spend some of their off-time away from home.

Dockers in west coast ports resumed work Wednesday, ending a six-week tie-up in sympathy with the strike of the Canadian Seamen's Union.

Italian Socialists Meet To Consider Quitting Government

ROME (BUP)—Italian right wing Socialists opened a special convention in Rome today to decide whether to quit the government, a move that would bring on the first serious cabinet crisis since the defeat of Communism last year.

St. Laurent, Coldwell Exchange Views On Farm Price Policies

By CANADIAN PRESS
Two diversified subjects—agriculture and television—headlined the general election campaign Wednesday night.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, touring eastern Ontario's farming communities, promised that floor prices enacted by the Liberals will ensure that "never again will farm products be given away for ridiculously low prices."

Mr. St. Laurent, speaking at Renfrew, said Liberal policies have provided a stability which agriculture never before has known and have underwritten, through floor prices, a financial condition which will "enable the farmer to maintain a decent standard of living in future years."

Floor price legislation for farm products had not yet been extensively used, but it would ensure that there would be no return to such depression days as were seen after the First World War. Family allowances, too, were a "good national investment."

DREW SPEAKS

Television was injected into the campaign by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, who suggested at London, Ont., that private interests be allowed to give the Canadian people television if they want to do so. At present, TV is to be developed only by the CBC.

Mr. Drew said at a rally that if private interests were allowed to go ahead they would give the Canadian people television without cost to the taxpayers. The government was insisting the CBC develop television at the expense of the taxpayers.

C.C.F. Leader M. J. Coldwell, moving into wheat and hog-producing Alberta, charged the Liberal government had moved agriculture back into the era of "uncontrolled markets and prices, on which speculators thrive, farmers go broke and the consumers starve."

At Wetaskiwin, Alta., he accused the government of playing into the hands of food speculators and ignoring the needs and wants of the farmers and the consumers.

E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, said at Port Arthur that both the Liberals and the Progressive Conservatives were promising social security measures in the campaign only because of their "hunger for office and fear of the C.C.F."

AS DESIRED BY FARMERS

At Regina Trade Minister Howe said Wednesday night that the Liberal government will continue to shape its legislation covering wheat and coarse grains in accordance with the desires of the great majority of farmer producers.

Mr. Howe deviated from the text of his federal election campaign address—which dealt chiefly with trade and marketing policies—to criticize Progressive Conservative leader George Drew. Mr. Howe said Mr. Drew's Canadian charges were "fantastic," and added he would answer them in detail July 20 in a broadcast address in his own constituency of Port Arthur.

Coldwell Expresses Disappointment At Election Outcome

EDMONTON (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader, said today the results of the British Columbia election are disappointing.

In a statement he said "it was obvious that the Coalition was well-equipped with financial support and publicity, both of which the C.C.F. lacked."

Mr. Coldwell emphasized that the popular vote for the C.C.F. indicates that had the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives run candidates separately instead of in Coalition, the C.C.F. membership in the new legislature would have been increased rather than diminished.

"I believe that on June 27, British Columbia will send a strong and able contingent of C.C.F. members to the House of Commons."

Mr. Coldwell delivered a federal campaign address in Wetaskiwin, Alta., last night, and referred to the B.C. election before he knew the outcome.

"I don't think I've ever seen more vicious advertising than I saw in British Columbia papers, sponsored by the Coalition forces," he told the Wetaskiwin meeting. He described the campaign waged by the C.C.F. as a "splendid fight" and declared they could continue the fight regardless of the outcome.

Mr. Coldwell said that the Coalition government has given away much of British Columbia's vast resources, and would, if returned, give away "much more of the resources which should go to benefit the people instead of large corporations."

New Car Won By Elk Lake Woman

The 1949 Chevrolet automobile offered as a prize in the recent ticket-selling campaign of the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association was awarded Wednesday night to Mrs. Ethel Bell, who resides at the Elk Lake Bungalow Camp, East Saanich Road.

The winner was determined at a ceremony held on the stage of the Dominion Theatre. A young girl from the theatre audience drew the lucky ticket stub out of a washing machine.

Mrs. Bell's lucky number was 6,029.

The winner was not available for comment last night, and today she is spending the day somewhere in the Sooke district.

Driver Injured

An estimated $300 damage was done to a truck and the driver, William Bridgwood, 3236 Seaton Road, was treated at Jubilee Hospital for a cut cheek, in an accident Wednesday night at Burnside and Harriet Roads at 7:30, Saanich police reported.

Police said the truck was in collision with a car driven by Carl O. Wright, Vancouver. The truck was knocked over on its side by the impact.

Bridgwood was released from hospital after receiving treatment for the cut.

Make Strawberry Jam this Quick, Easy, Sure Way with CERTO

1 So Quick — So Easy. It takes no more time than to make a simple dessert. First, crush thoroughly 2 quarts fully ripe berries. (Use ripe fruit, not the under-ripe fruit called for in old-fashioned recipes.) Measure 4 cups crushed fruit and 7 cups sugar into large saucepan or kettle, mix well, bring to full, rolling boil over high heat.

2 Short Boil Keeps Fresh-Fruit Flavor, Color. Stir constantly before and while boiling. BOIL HARD ONE MINUTE ONLY. (No long-boiling to dull the natural color or spoil the luscious fresh-fruit taste.) Remove from heat, stir in half-bottle of Certo Fruit Pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit.

3 50% More Jam! Because you don't have to "boil down" your juice to make it set, you'll have about 10 glasses to ladle and paraffin instead of the 6 to be expected from "long-boil" recipes. Certo helps all fruits to jell without tedious long boiling... averages 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.

4 No Guesswork. As each fruit comes in season, use Certo to stock your cupboard with a variety of delicious jams and jellies. With each bottle of Certo you get a booklet of 78 Kitchen-Tested recipes... a different one for each fruit since different fruits need different handling. For sure results follow these recipes exactly.

Certo is nothing but fruit pectin—the natural substance in fruit which makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell"—extracted and concentrated for easier, quicker, better jam and jelly making. The name "Certo" is a trade-mark.

A Product of General Foods

A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than a pound made the old, long-boil way.

TWO STARS IN SHOW—Noel Cusack as Elizabeth Barrett with her spaniel, Flush, as they will appear in the Victoria Players' Guild production of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." The production will be seen at the Club Sirocco on June 21, 22 and 23, with a large cast of leading Victoria players. Flush's official name is Showmaster and his nickname is "Freddy." He is a lemon and white cocker spaniel who has been loaned and specially trained for the show by J. T. O. Wood, of Quamdalla Kennels.

Berlin Strikers Upset Police Car

Striking German railroad workers, driven from Russian railroad headquarters by Soviet officers with drawn guns, vent their ire on an automobile which they thought was the property of the Soviets. Actually it was a police car. Earlier strikers had occupied Soviet headquarters, but they evacuated the building to avert bloodshed. (SNS Photo)

Hutton Bowled For 'Duck Zero' Three Innings Running

LONDON (Reuter)—Len Hutton, Yorkshire and England opening batsman, was out today for a "duck," zero for the third innings in succession when he was bowled by Reg Perks in Yorkshire's second innings against Worcestershire.

Perks had dismissed Hutton for zero in the first innings, and before that the England opener had failed to score in his second knock in the test match against New Zealand.

At the close of play Worcester-shire, who are at the top of the county championship table, needed 201 to win.

Today's closing scorecards:

At Lords, Cambridge University 179 and 126 for two, M.C.C. 312 for eight declared.

At Bristol, Combined Services 246 and 3, Gloucestershire 436.

At Worcester, Yorkshire 210 and 177, Worcestershire 137 and 50 for one.

At Nottingham, Leicestershire 292 and 27 for none, Nottinghamshire 308.

At Southampton, Hampshire 129 and 120 for three, New Zealand 430 for five declared.

Canada Produced 442,730 Tons Of Newsprint In May

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Newspaper Association announced today that Canadian newsprint production in May was 442,730 tons, an increase of 21,931 tons, or 5.2 per cent, over May, 1948. Production per working day averaged 17,094 tons, an increase of 5.2 per cent over the May, 1948, daily average.

All figures in the report include Newfoundland.

Production rate in May was 103 per cent of rated capacity against 102.9 per cent in April and 102.8 in May, 1948.

Canadian shipments in May were 459,129 tons, an increase of 16,192 tons, or 3.7 per cent over May, 1948. Canadian shipments to United States consumers were 377,797 tons, or 82.3 per cent of the total and 7.6 per cent higher than in May, 1948.

Spokane Conceded Number Of Records In 16-Run Inning

SPOKANE (AP)—The scorers of the Spokane's 16-run, three-homer barrage Wednesday night in the third inning against Tacoma are still checking a long list of possible records. Spokane won 20 to 14.

Spokane did this in the hectic third: Got two grand-slam homers and another good for three runs; sent 21 batters to the plate; connected for 12 base hits, and sent 2,000 fans home mumbling to themselves.

The record possibilities for one inning of play in the Western International League: 1, most runs scored; 2, most grand-slam homers; 3, most players at bat (21); 4, most runs batted in by homers (11); 5, most hits (12); 6, most hits by one player (Lyle Palmer, 3).

The total of 34 runs scored by both teams failed to match the league record of 41 set by Wenatchee and Yakima in 1947—Yakima 34, Wenatchee 6 in seven innings. No more than eight runs was scored by Yakima in any inning of that game.

The Chronicle said today its records show all the possibilities listed above as records for the league.

New Radio Beacon For West Coast

OTTAWA (CP)—Establishment of a new high tower radio beacon station on the west coast of Vancouver Island was announced today by the Transport Department.

The new radio beacon station, to help fishermen operating off Vancouver Island, will enable ships to take cross bearings and locate their position.

Located at Amphitrite Point, the station will be operated in conjunction with the recently established radio beacon station at nearby Pachena.

It also will be used in conjunction with Kain's Island radio beacon to aid navigation along the northwestern coast of Vancouver Island.

Cerdan Outweighs LaMotta By Pound

DETROIT (AP)—Reversing Wednesday's count, middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan today outweighed challenger Jake LaMotta of the Bronx by nearly a pound in ceremonies prior to their 15-round title fight at Briggs Stadium tonight (7 p.m. P.S.T.). Cerdan weighed 159 1/2 pounds and LaMotta 158 1/2.

Hope To Settle Argument

Brown-eyed Pricilla Ione Tomlinson, 20, and blue-eyed Hugh Tandy Gardner (right), 24, who were classmates in embryology at the University of Washington, will be married in an attempt to settle an argument on heredity. The couple, to be wed on the Bride and Groom radio show in Los Angeles, want to decide whether blue or brown eyes will predominate in children.—(NEA Photo)

Britain's Exports To Canada In May Totaled $30,000,000

LONDON (Reuter)—British exports to Canada last month reached "very nearly an all-time record," but those to the United States were down compared with last year's rate, Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, said today.

Speaking at a London luncheon given by the Institute of Export, Wilson said exports to Canada averaged $5,000,000 ($24,000,000 a month) during 1948 and the first three months of this year.

In May they had increased to $7,500,000.

Berle Remarried

NEW YORK (AP)—Milton Berle, stage and television comedian, was remarried today to his former wife, blonde Joyce Matthews, in a quiet wedding in startling contrast to his usual excitable appearances in public.

Given Year For Breach Of Alimony

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—Francis John Walker today was sentenced by Chief Justice W. R. Howson in Supreme Court to one year in jail with hard labor when convicted of a breach of the Alimony Order Enforcement Act.

Divorced by his wife, Annie Marie Elizabeth Walker, in 1947, Walker was ordered to pay $60 a month alimony by Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin.

Decision Not To Work Rescinded By Narrow Majority

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain's railroad crisis ended tonight with a move by striking locomotive crews to call off their 24-hour Sunday strikes, and a decision by a conference of the National Union of Railwaymen to drop their objection on principle to schedules keeping them away from home some nights.

The conference, representing 46,000 members of the union, decided by a narrow majority to rescind a decision that it was opposed on principle to all lodging turns—duties involving nights spent away from home.

It directed the N.U.R. executive to negotiate instead to have all unnecessary lodging turns ended.

Railwaymen in the north-eastern district for the last four Sundays staged "Sunday Only" strikes. This halting of traffic made it impossible for thousands of people to take customary trips to seaside or other points.

C.W.A. Campaigns For Recognition By Bell Telephone Co.

CHICAGO (AP)—The Communications Workers of America (C.W.A.) announced today a campaign for recognition by the Bell Telephone system, to be backed by a country-wide strike, if necessary.

Delegates at the C.W.A.'s third international convention approved a motion instructing the union's executive board "to take such action as may be necessary" within the next 90 days "to make effective all division contracts now being violated and dishonored by the companies and to restore recognition of the divisions as bargaining agents."

Saanich Enforcing All Traffic Laws

Saanich police court this afternoon was well on its way to establishing a record in revenue from traffic offences for a single day.

The court left no doubt in the minds of spectators that Saanich police are out to enforce the municipal traffic laws.

With the court session just half over, total fines levied had reached $395.

This included $195 from persons who pleaded guilty or were found guilty of dangerous and careless driving charges.

A total of $200 was paid for lesser traffic offences, including six motorists paying $15 each for exceeding 30 miles per hour speed limit.

The day's take will exceed the $395 figure by the time the court adjourns.

Decision Not To Work Rescinded By Narrow Majority

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain's railroad crisis ended tonight with a move by striking locomotive crews to call off their 24-hour Sunday strikes, and a decision by a conference of the National Union of Railwaymen to drop their objection on principle to schedules keeping them away from home some nights.

The conference, representing 46,000 members of the union, decided by a narrow majority to rescind a decision that it was opposed on principle to all lodging turns—duties involving nights spent away from home.

It directed the N.U.R. executive to negotiate instead to have all unnecessary lodging turns ended.

Railwaymen in the north-eastern district for the last four Sundays staged "Sunday Only" strikes. This halting of traffic made it impossible for thousands of people to take customary trips to seaside or other points.
